

all companies, as well as the Aluminum Company of America and other corporations, in violation, according to the resolution, of a federal statute prohibiting a treasury secretary from being "concerned or interested in carrying on the business of trade or commerce." Throughout the administration of the treasury by Mr. Mellon there runs, according to the resolution, "an indifference to the law, a contempt for the law, and a defiance to the law," which "breeds and encourages... disrespect for law and will eventually destroy the government of the United States."

Senator Coughlin asked that his resolution be allowed to lie over under the rules. After it had been read Senator Reed (Rep., Pa.) arose. "I take it," said Senator Reed to Senator Coughlin, "that we may assume that Mr. Mellon is otherwise all right."

"I wouldn't admit that," responded Senator Coughlin, while the galleries laughed.

Walsh and Nye Split.

Recurring reports of dissension between Senator Nye (Rep., N. D.) chairman of the Teapot Dome committee, and Senator Walsh (Dem., Mont.), who has acted as the committee's chief prosecutor, were given substance this afternoon by their own statements.

Senator Nye announced that it is his intention not only to search for the Continental Trading company bonds in the estate of the late President Harding, but in the accounts of his former associates—Daugherty and the late Jesse Smith particularly—as well.

Smith, popularly known as Daugherty's "fixer" and "go-between," committed suicide in the attorney general's Wardman Park hotel apartment at the height of the original oil scandal.

Both Daugherty and Smith are supposed to have speculated in oil stocks, notably Sinclair Consolidated Oil. The new investigation will seek to determine whether any of the Continental Trading company's Liberty bonds reached Daugherty or Smith.

Call for Brokers' Books.

All the records of Ungerleider & Co., a Cleveland, O., stock brokerage firm, which opened a Washington branch during the Harding administration, are to be subpoenaed, according to Senator Nye.

Senator Nye declared that he was spurred on to make a thorough investigation of the Harding estate and of the speculations of Daugherty and others of the same group by reports that the committee feared to really dig into the rumors which have persisted in Washington ever since the oil scandals were first exposed.

'Go Slow' Warns Walsh.

During his statement on the challenge of Senator Robinson (Rep., Ind.), that Gov. Al Smith of New York be subpoenaed to tell if Sinclair contributed to his 1920 campaign, Senator Walsh warned fellow members that the Teapot committee will lose the respect of the country if it allows itself to be used for political purposes.

The statement, interpreted as confirming reports that Walsh and Nye have clashed over the conduct of the investigation, reads as follows:

"Of course the committee on public lands and surveys is not going to call Gov. Smith, for the plain and simple reason that it had no ground to believe that he can shed any light upon the subject of its inquiry. It is directed to investigate generally the leasing of the naval oil reserves and specifically to ascertain what disposition was made of the bonds of the Continental Trading company."

"The committee would forfeit whatever measure of respect it has earned through its labors if it could be prevailed upon to go outside of the field prescribed for it, and would deserve universal contempt if it did so to promote or impair the political prospects of any individual or party."

"It is singularly unfortunate that publicity should have been given to some of the plans of the committee, or what individual members conceive may be its plans, and equally that there should be allowed to become public information affecting priceless reputations until it is confirmed upon inquiry to such an extent as to war-

SENATE COMMITTEE AGENT INSPECT HAYS' HOME TOWN BANKS

Sullivan, Ind., March 20.—(AP)—Officials of several banks here were questioned today by A. M. Fisher, representative of Senator Gerald P. Nye (Rep., N. D.), of the senate Teapot Dome investigation committee, in connection with reports that a block of the missing Liberty bonds of the Continental Trading company had passed through their hands.

Mr. Fisher declined to comment on what he had learned nor would bank officials discuss the matter. Fisher will continue his investigation tomorrow.

Sullivan is the home town of Will H. Hays, former Republican National chairman, who testified at recent Teapot Dome committee hearings that he received $160,000 in Continental Liberty bonds from Harry F. Sinclair as a donation to the Republican party.

Mr. Fisher did not disclose on what clues he was conducting the local investigation, but indicated he regarded them as reliable. He intimated he would make a report to the senate committee after a careful investigation. The clues are supposed to have been developed at recent hearings in Chicago and Washington.

rant the development of the facts through witnesses."

Senator Nye telegraphed a warning to Lucius J. M. Malinin, Chicago attorney, this afternoon that if the latter made public the documentary evidence he claims corroborates the mysterious bond package story told the Teapot subcommittee in Chicago last Friday he must assume full responsibility for it.

Word has been received from A. M. Fisher, the committee's investigator, that no package addressed to F. L. Siddons was ever received at Washington, Ill., by either the railroad company or the express company. Chief Justice Martin of the District Court of Appeals revealed yesterday that a package of Christmas cards shipped to him by his son-in-law, an employee of the Sinclair Refining company, in Chicago, was misdirected to Washington, Ill., and later forwarded to him here.

Malinin insisted in a long telegram to the senator today that he has checked the story and now has documentary evidence to prove the story told by the mysterious witness "H." and Malinin asked permission to make the evidence public in Chicago.

SINCLAIR FIGHTS TO DELAY TRIAL OF FRAUD CASE

Washington, D. C., March 20.—(AP)—A bitter legal battle over the government's plans to hold separate trials for Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall, charged with defrauding the government in the Teapot Dome naval oil leases, came into prospect tonight.

George P. Hoover, Sinclair's counsel, announced that he would oppose severance of the cases, and if separate trials were ordered because of Fall's illness, would demand postponement of the Sinclair case, because Fall would be needed as a material witness for the oil man. Fall's counsel, William E. Leahy, notified Judge Jennings Bailey today that he would move on Thursday to delay the trial of Fall set for April 2 on the grounds that his client was ill in El Paso, Tex., and unable to come to Washington.

The prosecutors announced that physicians would be sent to examine Fall before Thursday.

The prosecutors said that if Fall was unable to be here they would move to sever the cases and go ahead on April 20 with Sinclair's trial.

SENT TO CELL AS BREAST TIEF.

LINDBERGH GIVES CONGRESS 2 DAYS OF JAUNTS IN AIR

Takes Them Up, 7 or 8 at a Time.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took forty-five congressmen for a ride over the national capital today in a giant army Fokker transport plane. Between 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and 6:20 this evening the trans-Atlantic flyer made five successive flights from Bolling field, taking seven or eight passengers on each trip.

Among the seven passengers on the first flight were two of the four women members of the house—Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers (Rep., Mass.) and Mrs. Katherine Langley (Rep., Ky.).

When dusk persuaded the flying colonel to call it a day, approximately 100 senators and representatives who have accepted the colonel's invitation to fly with him remained to be taken up. At the rate of eight passengers a trip, it is probable that Lindbergh will be kept busy for two days longer on his self-appointed task.

Tomorrow's flights will be interrupted at noon, however, while the colonel comes to call it a day, approximately 100 senators and representatives who have accepted the colonel's invitation to fly with him remained to be taken up. At the rate of eight passengers a trip, it is probable that Lindbergh will be kept busy for two days longer on his self-appointed task.

ASKS CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE INDIANA POLITICS

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—(AP)—Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes, Ind., publisher, and one of ten candidates seeking the Republican nomination for governor of Indiana, today requested Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, to request congress to investigate alleged political intrigue in Indiana which he said is of federal concern.

The request was telegraphed to the Kansas senator, who earlier in the week demanded on the senate floor that there be a sweeping investigation of the wrongs of both Democratic and Republican parties.

"I ask you to present our case to congress for complete investigation, as there are many federal wrongs that must be corrected," Mr. Adams stated.

CY DEVRY BACK, FINDS LINCOLN PARK IS BETTER

Cy De Vry, for thirty-two years head of the Lincoln park zoo, came back yesterday to his old stamping ground. Eight years have passed since he left it, and both Cy and Lincoln park have changed—the former a little and the latter a lot. Cy's hair is a bit whiter and thinner. He still has that genial smile and that eternal cigar. He's a dude wrangler now.

As for the acres he once supervised, the extent and character of the changes, improvements, and additions somewhat stumped the man who once drew the fire of hundreds of critics when he built a lion house that cost $100,000.

"They seem to have a lot more money to spend than when I was here," he chuckled yesterday in his room at the Parkway hotel, "but they've done lots with it too. Those are fine buildings—and the roads are great. Most of my old pals in the zoo are gone."

His appearance yesterday in and around the animal houses was the signal for an impromptu reception. Acquaintances hailed him from every side.

De Vry has returned to Chicago to secure a party of thirty Chicago boys who will spend the summer months at Caribou camp in the Big Horn national forest in Wyoming, and is accompanied by his nephew and partner, Franklin R. De Vry of Omaha.

He makes his home in Los Angeles, where he went to take charge of the Sells motion picture zoo after leaving Chicago. He retired four years ago but dislikes inaction and so has started out again.

BANDITS TAKE $2,500 GEMS.

Two armed men yesterday entered the Y. O. Clock shop, 916 East 47th street, and forced Sidney A. Basens, the owner, and Mrs. Arthur G. Lamm, 4734 Ingalls avenue, a customer, into a rear room, bound the woman and forced the man to lie on the floor. Then they ransacked the showcases of jewelry valued at $2,500, and took $2 from Mrs. Lamm and $4 from Basens.

BRITAIN BRANDS RUSSIAN DISARM PLAN INSINCERE

Charges Scheme Aims to Sabotage League.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
GENEVA, March 20.—The allies went to bat against the Russian disarmament schemes today—and how! Italy, France, Japan and Great Britain blasted the soviet's delivery wide open, but the Big Bambling—Lord Cushendun, outlugged 'em all. This huge six foot Irishman, wearing a violet boutonniere, tore off runs until his big winged collar wilted and perspiration ran down his neck.

Lord Cushendun tossed sugar coated pills, which he belted out with honeyed stitching, but it is generally conceded that he left numerous openings for a rally by Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Russian delegation.

The British delegate opened the attack by asking permission to speak freely and frankly. He asked M. Litvinoff not to take his remarks personally, then bitterly criticized Moscow for attempting to divorce disarmament from the league of nations' domain.

Is Full Disarmament Practical?
"We must examine the soviet proposals carefully before accepting or rejecting them, and I am surprised Count von Bernstorff has not perceived the necessity for this," said Lord Cushendun, smiling benignly on the German delegate. "We all accept the initial Russian principle in favor of the most complete disarmament. That is an ideal that has been in the making since the dawn of history. But is it practical now? Can it be accomplished under existing conditions in the world? I express profound doubts and must examine the project in detail."

"On the second principle, about taking a firm step toward disarmament within a year, I entirely dissent. We must first decide whether the soviet offer is a practical plan, then, if so, how are we going to examine it?"

Lord Cushendun, warming up, became extremely personal. "In what spirit did Moscow send its representatives to participate?" he asked. "The league's sole reason for existence is disarmament, but it never received assistance or encouragement from Russia. Instead the Russian government lost no opportunity of re-

REPORT MAYOR MAY PICK MRS. WESTLAKE FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE

Mrs. Katherine Westlake, 1523 Sherwin avenue, Rogers Park business and club woman, is being favorably considered by Mayor Thompson for appointment as a member of the board of education, it was learned yesterday.

The reports were that Mrs. Westlake is slated to succeed John A. Engli, James A. Hennigway, or theophilus Schmid. The terms of the first two expire on May 1, Mrs. Westlake, it is understood that Trustee Schmid, a Dever appointee, may be persuaded to resign at the close of the McAndrew trial. Mrs. Westlake did not deny the reports, but declined to make any comment except to indicate she would accept the appointment if selected.

She is the widow of Edward G. Westlake, a former Chicago newspaper man. She is about 45 years old. Since the death of her husband in 1917 Mrs. Westlake has engaged in the real estate business and is now in charge of the Rogers Park office of the Cochran and McClure company.

She is past president of the Rogers Park Day nursery and a member of the Rogers Park Woman's club and the Tuesday Art and Travel club. She has two sons.

If Mrs. Westlake is appointed, there will be two women on the board. The other is Mrs. W. S. Hefferan.

Within a year, I entirely dissent. We must first decide whether the soviet offer is a practical plan, then, if so, how are we going to examine it?"

Lord Cushendun, warming up, became extremely personal. "In what spirit did Moscow send its representatives to participate?" he asked. "The league's sole reason for existence is disarmament, but it never received assistance or encouragement from Russia. Instead the Russian government lost no opportunity of repeating the league and covering it with scorn and derision. It is remarkable that a few weeks ago the soviet government wanted to take part in the disarmament work."

What Changed Russia's Policy?
"Russia has not indicated that it desires to join the league. We are curious to learn what changed its policy and must scrutinize under what spirit the proposals were made."

Some Americans as well as league secretariat officials made wry faces at these remarks. They recalled how the soviet government refused to send a delegation to Switzerland until the Bern government gave assurance it would prevent another assassination like that of M. Vorovsky at the Lausanne Turkish treaty meeting five years ago.

Lord Cushendun then read an article from the Moscow newspaper Isvestia accusing the capitalist states of sabotaging the soviet plan.

"That is the clearest intimation that the purpose of the Russian delegates is not to give genuine assistance here, but that they have an ulterior motive," thundered the English delegate. Veteran league members quivered, as newspaper comment never is accepted here as official.

Fears Sabotage of League.
"I do not intend to sabotage the Russian project and I support the demand for a detailed examination of the plan," said Lord Cushendun. "If there is any question of sabotage it is the soviet government sabotaging the league. From the first to the last is not mentioned, although every other treaty since the war does," roared the British delegate. It was remarked by a delegate that the Washington naval treaties did not mention the league.

The Briton objected because the Red plan provides for the creation of a permanent international control commission "to superintend the execution of disarmament instead of the league organization and council."

Lord Cushendun then declared that the league covenant required the members to maintain a certain sized army "in order to carry out sanctions against an aggressor, and if the world was totally disarmed Geneva would be impotent to take military action against wrongdoers as stipulated."

"That means the repealing of the covenant, which we are not competent to consider," said Lord Cushendun. "The object is to establish peace in the world, but what kind of peace?" he continued.

"There are two kinds of war, international and civil. It is a fair question to ask whether the soviet government resolutely opposes civil war or international war, not only in their country, but the world over."

"For years the whole basis of the world policy of the soviet government has been to produce armed insurrections and civil wars in every country over which they exercise influence. We must have the assurance of a complete change of policy, and that the soviet no longer will interfere with other nations."

"Some nations, like mine, where the relations of peoples are not on the highest social or cultural level, would never sign the Russian plan. They would not disarm, for this might menace the order and lives of the people in adjoining regions and our colonies or mandates, for whom we are responsible."

Sees Smaller Nations Endangered.
"If you abolish all armed forces and destroy war implements you give supreme power to the nations who are able most quickly to improvise forces to manufacture arms, so the small states more than ever would be at the mercy of states possessing such resources."

Lord Cushendun then directed his attack at the weak points of the Red scheme.

"Local police are permitted to be maintained in proportion to the length of communications, population, and area of countries, and special police for objects deemed to require protection by the state," he went on to say. "What does that mean?"

Allows Russia Big Army.
"At the end of four years there would be no armed force for national defense, but police armed with rifles, in ratio to the size of a country," he said. "It is a long way from the Polish frontier to the Bering sea, and an enormous country like Russia is thus entitled to a powerful army."

"I scrutinized the naval clauses, which contain valuable suggestions. Great Britain has announced its readiness to abolish submarines. It also is willing to carry the Washington agreements further and reduce the size and power of capital ships."

"The sea patrol is aimed to prevent piracy and slave trade, but the size, speed, and strength of ships must permit efficiency."

Gen. Marinis of Italy praised the idea of obliterating the history of war from the memory of man, then dragged out the old slogan of pooling natural resources, saying peace requires economic security, and certain countries possess more wealth in industry and raw materials.

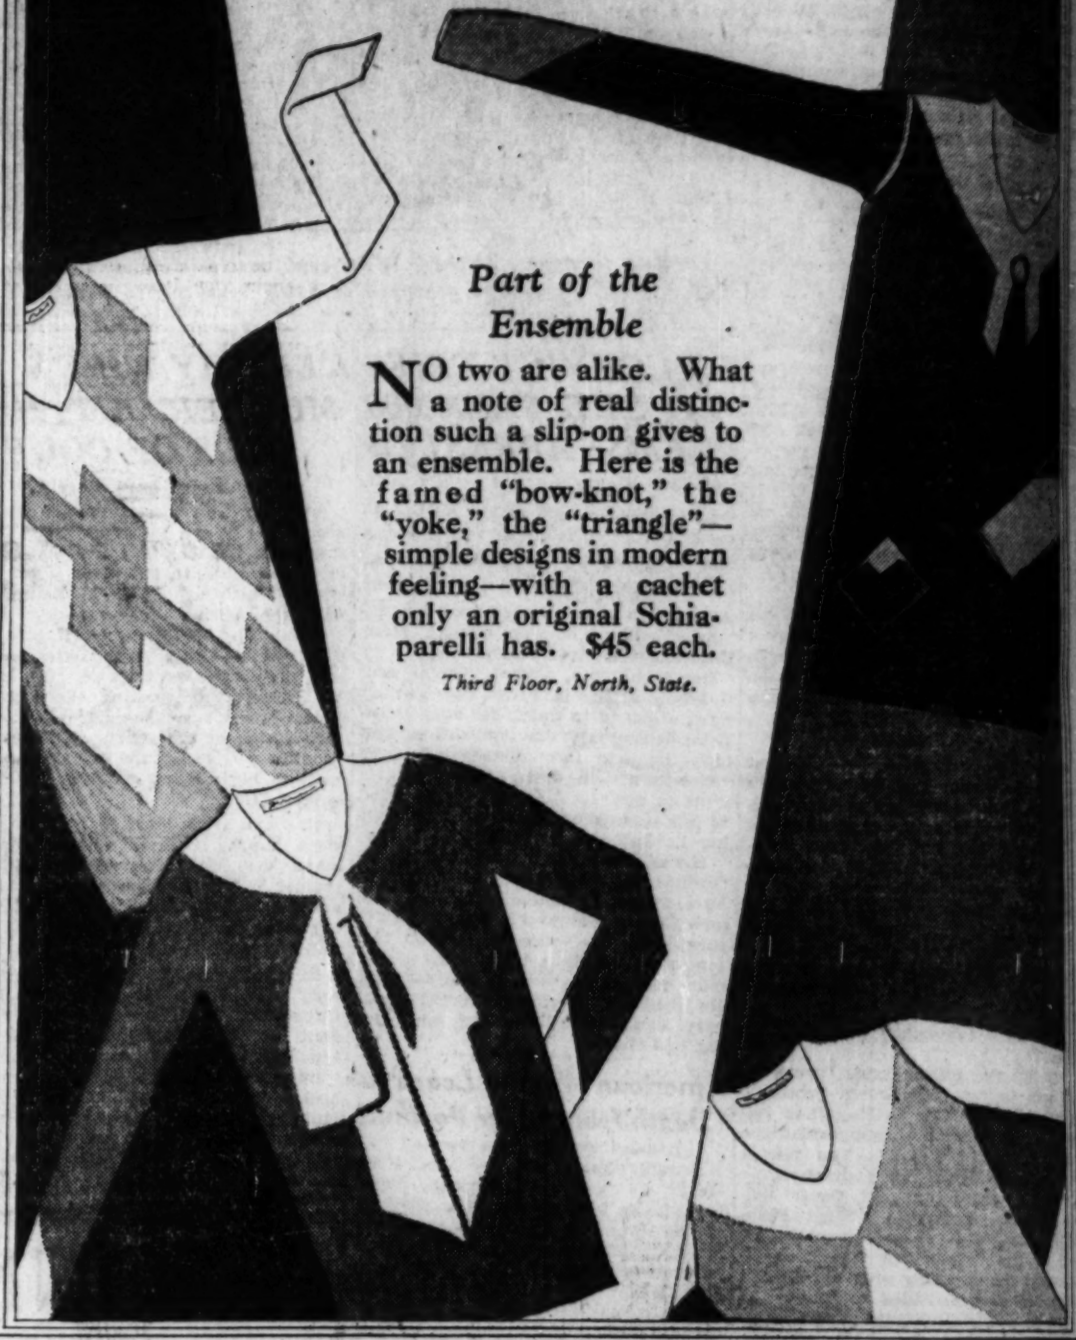

M. Claudel of France found the plan impossible and regretted the Russians did not attend the beginning of the disarmament conference.

"The object is to establish peace

SMALL'S FACE ON STATE HIGHWAYS TROUBLES MOTORISTS

Charge His Advertising Signs Break Law.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

Advertising signs broadcasting the face of Gov. Len Small and proclaiming the governor's road building program made their appearance along the state highway and other state roads in Chicago territory this week. They have been placed along the highway of bond issue roads down the length of the last two weeks or so, and the provisions of the state highway law, which prohibits the placing of advertising signs on the highway of state highways, are being tested. The unique decoration of the highway system, the governor has apparently seized the huge billboards once used for public announcements by Lincoln park board. These questions have arisen among motorists as a reaction to the display of outdoor art. They are: Does what dispensation does the governor violate the law against advertising signs on public highways? Can the governor provide his personal advertising signs along the state highway system when he pleaded lack of funds with which to mark the through federal roads in Illinois with direction signs. Under what statute is the use of state highway employees and equipment for putting up personal advertisements of the governor approved? The rural road signs, of which there are said to be many thousands in place, are hung from neat, white posts, and bear a portrait of the governor, with the words "Len Small, Good Roads Governor," within a scroll representing the map outline of Illinois. They have been erected mostly on the road shoulders, but John Jones, 5107 Carmen avenue, who drove over the Dixie highway yesterday, reported one in the middle of the road west of Geneva.

On route 36, near Neponset, the new signs have caused trouble and difficulties for motorists, who mistook them for direction or warning signs. Genuine direction signs are said to be scarce in the vicinity.

It is reported from Kewanee that not only were the highway department employees and trucks used to put up the Small signs, but that they also were employed to tear down Emerson placards on nearby trees off the state's property.

The taxpayers of the Lincoln park district were astounded last Saturday to see emblazoned on the 200 foot signboard at Sheridan road and Lincoln park an immense sign with a brief inscription over the name of "Len Small, Governor." Closer scrutiny showed that park improvements were being made by the Lincoln park commission (in small letters), appointed by Len Small, Governor (in large letters).

Something New in Benefits?

The plain inference, in the opinion of many observers, was that the governor had become a sort of Santa Claus to the north side taxpayers and had found a new means of building parks and highways for the people.

The signboard, which was erected by the commission to herald the fact that a property owner was blocking the northward improvements of the park district was repainted in glaring colors last week. Although no definite information could be obtained from the Lincoln park officials as to who paid for the repainting, estimated as costing about $700, it is rumored that the governor personally did not.

The Lowry Sign company painted the board, but would not say who paid them.

"We are open to a proposition for the board for commercial signs after the primaries," a salesman at the Lowry plant told THE TRIBUNE.

Signs at Other Entrances.

At other entrances to Lincoln park other signs tell of the generosity of the people of the (small letters) park commission and (big letters) Len Small. One bears the wording:

"The Improvements and Subways on This Drive," in large letters; "built by the commissioners of Lincoln park, appointed by," in small letters, "LEN SMALL, Governor," in large letters.

The installation of Gov. Small's personal campaign signs along the state highway system is regarded of special interest to motorists because the administration has delayed the marking of highways to the extent that travelers are frequently lost.

Some months ago motor clubs and individuals appealed to the state highway department for the erection of markers along the federal routes in the state. It was pointed out that Illinois is the only extensive and closely populated state which has failed to erect signs showing the line of federal roads.

Other States Mark Routes.

States bordering on Illinois have marked their federal through routes, but at the Illinois state line through travelers are confronted with unmarked highways. Numerous reports of loss of time and much inconvenience have been made to the motor clubs and tour bureaus, because of the lack of road signs.

Downstate the appearance of the Small portrait upon the posts has inspired the title, "The Face on the Highways." Whether the signs are intended to be permanent adornment of the roads or are purely for campaign purposes is left by the governor to public conjecture.

KING'S AID WILL SIGN REPRIEVE FOR DORIS TODAY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

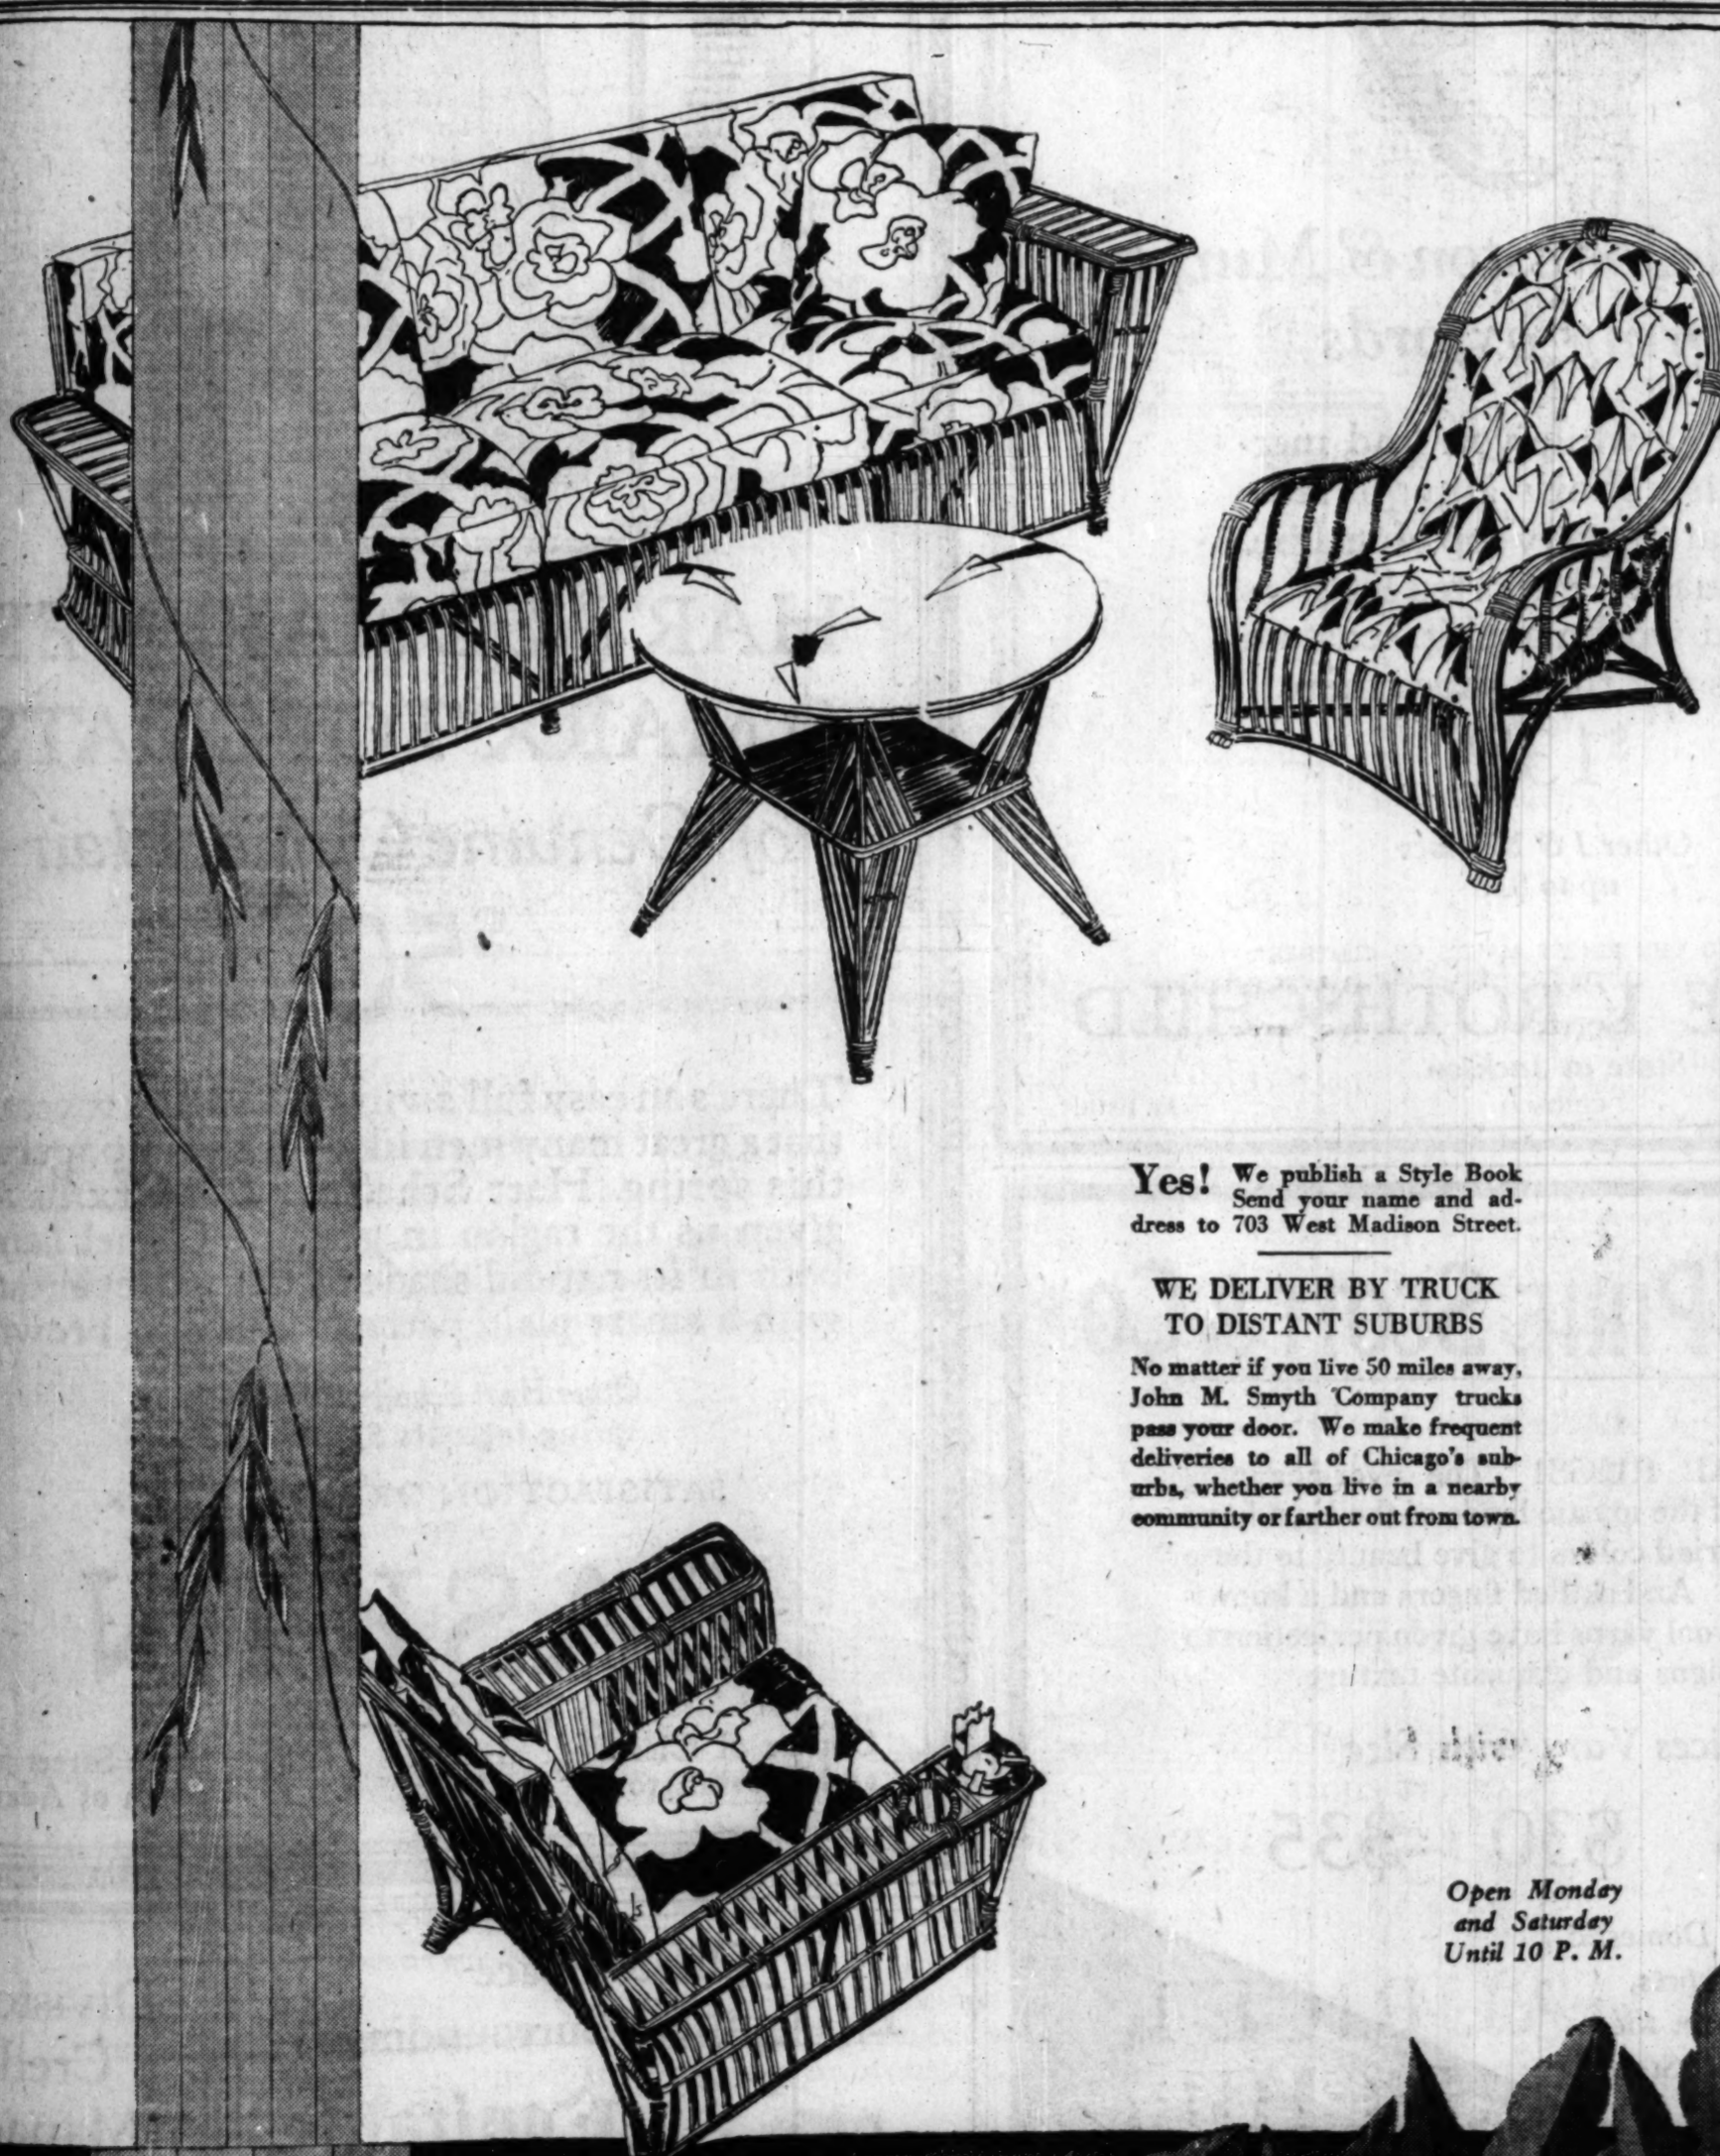

MONTREAL, Quebec, March 20.—The cabinet of Premier McKenna King sent word to Viscount Willington this afternoon that the American flapper bandit, Doris Palmer McDonald, deserved the mercy of the English crown. The representative of King George was urged to commute her death sentence to life imprisonment. The governor general of Canada will sign the reprieve to-morrow.

George McDonald, the Broadway, New York, bootlegger who deserted his wife for the charms of the titan haired Mount Vernon, N. Y., girl, will be hanged in Valleyfield prison Friday morning for his part in the murder last July of Adolphe Bouchard, Lacine, Que., taxi driver, according to best information here. However, his attorneys are still trying to stay the execution by perfecting an appeal.

Doris was gay in her cell in the Peltum street jail today when visited by her mother, Mrs. Hazel Greco of Chicago, and attorneys. Her fear of the gallows has been dispelled by the information which reached her by underground channels.

Eight miles away in his death cell in Bordeaux prison, McDonald, who last Sunday declared Doris free of all guilt in the murder, sat in sullen gloom. He had seen his parents and sister in the morning and bade farewell to them as they left for Ottawa for a last minute appeal to Minister of Justice Ernest La Pointe.

Like Doris, McDonald has turned, in the shadow of the gallows, to the consolation of religion, and today he sought to console his parents when they, more than he, showed the effects of the meeting.

DEMOCRATS RISE TO QUELL REVOLT AGAINST BRENNAN

M. J. O'Brien Answers for Chief, Who Is Ill.

The battle of the Forty-ninth ward and the attack of Charles A. McDonald, former judge, upon George B. Brennan prompted Martin J. O'Brien, Democratic county chairman, to unlimber his trusty typewriter last night. By many of the ward leaders the upper Gold Coast revolt seemed to be regarded as a not unwelcome diversion. Sherman hotel headquarters of the Brennan organization, which for the last week have been almost deserted, the harmony being so sticky and sirupy, was suddenly filled all day with political lights looking for a chance to get into the fight.

"If Mr. Brennan was on his feet," said Mr. O'Brien, "in normal health, it would not be necessary for me or anybody else to reply to McDonald. Mr. Brennan is usually able to take care of himself. But he happens to be in a hospital, convalescing from a surgical operation. Under the circumstances it is hard to keep from characterizing Mr. McDonald's conduct as cowardly as it was unwarranted."

Explains Campaign Gifts.

"Personally I am glad to be in a position to repudiate his accusation that Mr. Brennan imposed as a condition on the choice of Judge William E. Dever as a candidate for mayor that Dever should not handle any campaign contributions."

"A few days after the managing committee endorsed Judge Dever in 1923 the judge appeared at headquarters. He told me he had been tendered a number of campaign contributions and he did not want to be burdened with any detail of the financial side of the campaign. I thereupon suggested that he endorse all such checks to Clayton F. Smith, treasurer. And he did that throughout his two campaigns."

"Most of the checks passed through my hands as chairman. Furthermore, the records of the managing committee disclose that Mr. Smith acknowledged in writing the receipt of every check sent to the committee by Mr. Dever. I am certain that Mr. Dever's personal files will sustain this statement."

Cites Election Records.

Saved from trip to hospital

Doctor told this man how to avoid a common cause of rupture

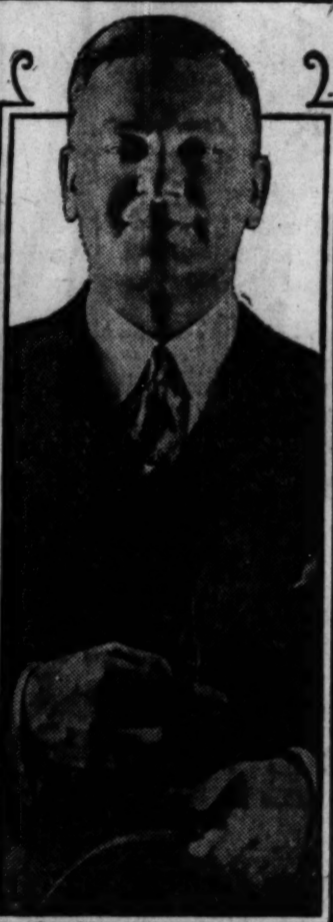

LIKE so many, this man had a slight tendency to hernia. The doctor who examined him said there was no real rupture, only a weakness.

"Go easy," he warned, "and above all don't strain yourself in any way. One of the most common causes of rupture is excessive straining to relieve a congested system. Yet so few people ever suspect it. For one thing, take Nujol regularly. It will probably save you a trip to the hospital. I advise all my patients who've had abdominal operations to take it, too, to avoid the danger of another break."

Nujol, taken regularly, avoids this risk. It provides an easy, natural method of regulating body functions. Keeps everything normal without effort. It not only prevents the excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but aids in their removal.

A surprising number of people—men especially—are susceptible to hernia. Take a tip from this man's experience and play safe. Take Nujol regularly. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Try it for 3 months and you'll never want to be without it again.

In good shape again

It certainly can do no harm to try it. Nujol contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. And it may save you real trouble. Be sure you get the genuine.

CRISIS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

TEHERAN, Persia, March 20.—Fifteen Arab chieftains from the southern territory of Iraq, representing 14,000 Arab peasants, journeyed to Mohammarah, a Persian town on the Karun river, applying to Persian government authorities for permission to emigrate to Persia. They agree to forego their Iraqi citizenship. Their appeal was favorably received, but on their return to Basra, the chieftains were arrested by the Iraqi authorities. The tense feeling between Persia and Iraq is increasing. A majority of the inhabitants of Iraq, chiefly Persians and Arabs, are discontented and resentful of the Iraqi rule.

cations to a seat in the United States senate, I direct Mr. McDonald's attention to the fact that the people of his own, the Forty-ninth ward, were not in agreement with him. On election day, in 1926, Mr. Brennan carried the Forty-ninth ward, a Republican stronghold, against Frank L. Smith, by a vote of 9,792 to 7,415. The same was true of Cook county, which Mr. Brennan carried by a plurality of 79,581, an unprecedented feat for a Democrat since the civil war."

WIFE, SHUT OUT, KILLED HERSELF, CORONER FINDS

Mrs. Ella Kadala, 27, drank poison on the steps of her home, 1925 Green Bay road, Glenview, a month ago, after her estranged husband slammed the door in her face when she asked to come in and see her five small children. She died in the Evanston hospital two weeks ago and yesterday a coroner's jury decided she committed suicide.

At the hearing yesterday the husband, Stanley Kadala, president of the American Architectural Iron works, denied the accusation of Lieut. William Helke that he refused to permit the police to bring the woman into the house after she was found in agony on the lawn. He admitted denying her admittance before she took the poison.

Attorneys engaged by relatives of Mrs. Kadala stated that they would take steps to have Mr. Kadala shown responsible for her death, despite the verdict.

20 UNDER COVER DRY AGENTS HERE TO HUNT OASES

Two federal prohibition enforcement agencies, functioning independently of each other, are now operating to mop up Chicago's wet spots. It was learned yesterday after the latest unit of twenty under cover agents from Washington, D. C., had been installed at prohibition headquarters. It was said that many of the raids on alleged liquor law violators will be made under the old internal revenue act, thus avoiding the strict search warrant requirements of the Volstead law.

The agents are headed by George Golding, and a cloak of secrecy has been thrown over their activities since their arrival in Chicago.

One of the methods used by these agents is to buy liquor, then file criminal information and procure an arrest warrant. With this they search premises, avoiding the necessity of applying for a search warrant.

Asylum Crowded, 11 Boys Held Here in County Jail

Eleven boys are locked up in the county jail for want of room in feeble-minded institutions. It was announced yesterday by Judge Francis B. Allert. They are not charged with any crime, but have been found by the municipal psychopathic laboratory to be feeble-minded and were ordered sent to the state school at Lincoln, Ill. C. H. Diehl, managing officer of the school, says he has no room for them.

PETERS FIRES ON GOV. SMALL'S STATE 'DYNASTY'

Calls State Rule Mere Family Affair Now.

Gov. Small was pictured as seeking to found a dynasty in Illinois yesterday by an ex-member of his official family, Charles J. Peters, who was sworn out by Small as chief grain inspector Monday to make way for George Hitzman, a Thompson-Crowe committee man.

"Why," inquired Mr. Peters, in a formal statement, "why create a dynasty with Small as king, his son as crown prince, and his son-in-law as prime minister?"

"Why does Gov. Small make the business of the state government a family affair and why is it necessary to preserve so much secrecy in the matter?"

"Let Small be governor, Leslie Small, his son, is director of purchases and construction. Every contract and every purchase made for the state must be authorized by the governor's son, Leslie. Every state road contract and the location of all state roads is in the hands of the governor's partner in his banking business—the former cashier of his bank in Kankakee—Cornelius R. Miller, director of public works."

"All the vouchers for the expenditure of state funds must be approved by A. R. Ingles, administrative auditor of the department of finance, Gov. Small's son-in-law, who lives with the governor in the executive mansion at Springfield."

"Why does the governor insist that all monies, all contracts, all business of the state should be secretly handled by his own family? The state's business should not be a family affair, but

KICK FOR KICK METED OUT TO KICKING BOY BY A SCHOOL JURY

Muscatine, Ia., March 20.—[Special.]—A kick for a kick is the punishment meted out to pupils of the public schools in Conestoga, Ia.

The school board there approved the "tit for tat" theory of discipline last night when it acquitted Mrs. C. E. Burnett, teacher of charges of cruelty to James Swails, 11 year old schoolboy, when the Swails boy persisted in kicking other children in the school yard. The teacher submitted the case to the pupils of her room.

The pupils decided that justice demanded that James also be kicked. The teacher approved the sentence, so the offender was stood against the wall while all the children whom he had kicked filed by him, each one taking a lusty kick at him as they passed.

Albany, N. Y., March 20.—[Special.]—The engagement of Miss Catherine Smith, younger daughter of the governor and Mrs. Smith, to Francis P. Quillinan, a member of the legal staff in the office of Attorney General Ottinger, was made known tonight by the governor. The wedding date has been set tentatively for June 9.

The news of the wedding engagement brought immediate speculation at the capital as to the likelihood of another brilliant ceremony at the executive mansion such as marked the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Warner, the latter the governor's elder daughter, Emily.

Mr. Quillinan is the son of Timothy J. Quillinan, former Republican district attorney of Rensselaer county.

SMALL, BAD DEBT, LET'S RETIRE HIM, GLENN'S ADVICE

Too Hard to Get Interest, Carlstrom Agrees.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Decatur, Ill., March 20.—(Special.) "For the interest of Illinois," the big four Republicans are here to night, Emerson for governor, Carlstrom for attorney general, Glenn for senator, Stratton for secretary of state.

"Gov. Small wants a third term for the interest of Illinois," but it is too hard to get back," said Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom this morning at Monticello.

And from then on the interest in the campaign returned. They found, the big four said, that the people are taking a great deal of interest in the campaign because Gov. Small took a great deal of interest.

Claims of Victory.

They left Vermilion county with promises that it would be carried for the big four by 5,000 votes. They entered Platte county and left it with claims of victory. This afternoon they were assured De Witt county favored them by a ratio of three to one. Tonight in Macon county they are pleased to learn that the voters are interested and eager about the change.

"There sits the man who made him give back $50,000 of change," former Senator Otis P. Glenn announces as he points to Carlstrom.

"But, of course, Small didn't return his own or your own money. He levied an assessment against the state employees. He had revived that antiquated custom of assessing his appointees for campaign funds. He collected a million for the defense fund. Now he is collecting a retirement fund."

Twice He Was Blackballed.

"You know how business men talk of retiring a debt. Well, this time it is the citizens' business to retire a bad debt named Small, who has been a leechlike liability for these many years. You don't have to retire my opponent. He has retired himself, once or twice, and the United States senate retired him a time or two; and would again if he should get a fourth set of credentials to that body which he terms a club of slanders. Well, if I had been blackballed twice by any club I wouldn't try again, particularly to a club for slanders."

"When I am in the senate no one will be able to say to me 'I control

POLITICAL NOTES

Democratic chieftains will hold a concave today at the Sherman hotel with the state and county candidates. Justice Floyd E. Thompson of the State Supreme court and candidate for governor, will discuss the matter of keynotes and platform for the state convention. At state headquarters last night Justice Thompson said: "This looks like a wonderful opportunity for the Democratic party. It is immaterial to me whether the Republicans nominate Emerson or Small."

Charles W. Vail, candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state, made public yesterday his endorsement by some of the Deneen ward organizations. Word at headquarters was that Mr. Vail, now Supreme court clerk, is to have his name marked on the Deneen ballots.

Democratic candidates, state and local are to be guests of John J. Touhy, sanitary district trustee, to night at his Dreamland party.

your vote. Didn't I buy you your seat in the senate? And in the election of Louis L. Emerson as governor you will be assured that when you have any differences with a utility company the chairman of the commerce commission will not be prejudiced against you by reason of his having been interested by the other party to the litigation.

"You will have no bought and paid for judges."

That topic of judges added compound interest to the campaign of the big four.

"Not content with controlling the great state of Illinois, with its interest and its interests, Small obtained control of the legislature," asserted Mr. Emerson, who promises to be content with being governor instead of dictator. "I have as great an interest in the building of good roads as any one else in the state."

Added Power to Small.

"In fact, I was on the good roads committee back in 1900, and I was trying to get roads when Small was getting interest. But his awarding or withholding roads because a county voted for or against his wishes gave Small an added power. And he wanted still more. He reached out to take a controlling interest in the courts which ordered him to refund the people's interest."

"My interest in good government will not take the form of seeking to be the executive, the legislature and

City Attorney Max L. Pryzborski of North Chicago has been named manager of the Emerson-Carlstrom-Glenn-Stratton campaign in Lake county.

George Lohman, deputy city collector, announced yesterday he is going to independently for Republican ward committeeman of the 37th ward.

Opposition to the little ballot proposals to issue $77,500,000 bonds for improvements has been voiced by the Birchwood Improvement association. It says "taxes are now exorbitant" and the burden of more taxes if the bonds are approved will "rest heavily on home owners and rent payers."

Francis M. Keough, president of the village of Lemont and Democratic candidate for representative in the seventh district writes that the regular Democratic organization has not made any endorsements and the fight is a free for all.

Senator La Follette is leaving tomorrow for his home state to take the stump during the remainder of the campaign for representative in the seventh district. He will speak at Racine on Thursday night, at Beloit on Friday night, and at Baraboo on Saturday night.

Senator Blaine has just returned from a campaign tour in Wisconsin. He denied published reports that he had failed to speak in behalf of the Norris candidacy.

His complimentary references to three Democratic Presidential candidates—Senators Reed (Dem., Mo.) and Walsh (Dem., Ind.), and Gov. Al Smith of New York—Senator Blaine said, were not intended to place any of them ahead of Senator Norris.

LA FOLLETTE AND BLAINE SAY THEY ARE FOR NORRIS

Washington, D. C., March 20.—(Special.)—Election of the Norris slate of delegates at the Wisconsin primaries on April 3 was predicted today by both Senator La Follette (Rep., Wis.) and Senator Blaine (Rep., Wis.).

Hammond police yesterday began a search for Vivian Saach, 24 years old, after the girl's mother, Mrs. A. M. Saach, charged that she had been kidnaped by Mack Pollack, a Calumet restaurant man. Pollack and the girl disappeared Sunday night. Mrs. Saach said Pollack was a persistent suitor who had been jilted by her daughter.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin.

In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's

"Boulevard" Shirts of English Broadcloth—$3.50

The indication that men want a superior shirt at a moderate price has become a definite demand since our introduction of the Capper & Capper "Boulevard." We have just had yards and yards of imported white English broadcloth made up into "Boulevard" shirts over the same patterns that we employ for our most expensive offerings. The styling, needling and finishing are as rigidly right as you'll find in shirts at much higher prices. There are collar attached and neckband models marked at the regular "Boulevard" price: $3.50 the shirt.

Old Shoes and a New Suit

You've seen it many a time—the incongruous combination of a man strutting down the street in a nice new suit, the effect utterly spoiled by a pair of old, dull shoes.

That is exactly the impression visitors receive when they enter an office equipped with a conglomerate assortment of furniture.

SPITZER'S offers an unusual advisory service in the selection and arrangement of Office Furniture. We assist you in achieving complete new effects by taking your old furniture in trade. Our booklet, "That One-Third of Your Life," tells all about this service. It's free.

DENEEN NEEDS CALL FOR HELP IN COUNTY FIGHT

Will Return to Look Over the Battle Ground.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Senator Charles S. Deneen, harkening to the call of his ward chiefs, will come back to lead his followers, sent word to the Deneenites last night that he will come a-galloping to Chicago Friday. At Washington the senator said he would be away only for the week-end, but at Morrison hotel, Deneen leaders said they will seek to anchor him at headquarters for the rest of the primary campaign.

The state's attorneyship moved into the foreground in last night's activities as the spot on which the campaigning will be largely concentrated. Eugene Emmerson and Crowe, state's attorney Robert E. Crowe, was endorsed by the Evanston Republican club of the country towns. The club endorsed L. L. Emmerson for governor, Oscar E. Carlstrom for attorney general, and Otis F. Glenn for United States senator. Chicago is now almost insulated by an anti-small belt in the country towns, most of the Cook county suburban sections having taken organization action against the Small-Smith-Dalley state ticket. The president of the Evanston Republican club is George W. Paulin, former sanitary district trustee.

While the Evanston meeting was underway Mr. Crowe, the Deneen group centered its campaigning upon the state's attorneyship. Judge Daniel P. Trade, who was defeated for county judge on the Deneen state ticket two years ago, in an address at Harvey, dug into the files of former years.

"The state's attorney," said Judge Trade, "says he will say nothing derogatory about his opponents. In this respect it appears a mighty reform has taken place in his campaign methods."

"In past election fights of fragmentary memory the state's attorney was involved in a sulphurous exchange of personalities with men who are now, at least, his supporters for reelection."

Recalls Fight with Mayor.
"I quit Thompson," Crowe said in 1922, "because he indicated he did not want me to live up to my oath of office. The immediate cause of my break with Mayor Thompson was my efforts to close hellholes of prostitution and vice."

"Mayor Thompson repaid this comment in 1924 by frequently repeating to his public speeches: 'I will have that Bill Thompson as turned out to be a crook.'"

"In other exchanges Mayor Thompson referred to the state's attorney as a 'little rat' and the state's attorney retorted with the pungent proclamation that Mr. Thompson was a 'skunk.'"

Takes Rap at Wolf.
"Former Oscar Wolf was quoted in THE TRIBUNE of Nov. 28, 1925, as follows: 'Mr. Crowe is attacking me for no reason except that I have refused to accede to his demands to suppress important cases which threaten his political security or endanger the liberty of his political friends. Through his assistants he tried to throttle the O'Bannon inquiry of the coroner's jury.'

"Mr. Crowe made no reply to this, but on a previous occasion when the coroner had cited the large number of murders and the few convictions Mr. Crowe had scorned his present political ally with the remark: 'A boob is an awful thing.'"

"I want to add to Mr. Crowe's characterization of the coroner that the latter has now on his staff one of the most notorious gunmen in Chicago and also one of the most notorious election crooks in Chicago."

Swanson Tells of Bombs.
Judge John A. Swanson, Deneen candidate for state's attorney, appeared at the noonday City club forum, where Mr. Crowe spoke last week.

"Like the late Luther Burbank, who made peaches grow on a thorn apple tree and cultivated wartless potatoes," said Judge Swanson, "the state's attorney is going to transform the pine apple into a pure and fragrant lily."

"When he appeared before you he did not discuss the bombing of the home of Charles C. Fitzmorris, Dr. William Reid, Municipal Judge John Barabara, and Lawrence Cuneo, secretary to the state's attorney."

"As the campaign goes on and the state's attorney is required to answer questions of an outraged and terrorized people the colloquy probably will run something like this:

"Q.—Why have you not discovered the killers who murdered your assistant prosecutor and tried to dynamite your secretary and several of your political allies? A.—America First."

"Q.—Is your home still guarded against bombers? A.—Draft Coolidge."

"The state's attorney, when he is pinned down to specific instances like gang murders, robberies, and bombings, will point to the grand old flag of the republic and stand silent while his breast heaves with exalted patriotism."

DIES FROM INJURY TO THUMB.
James Tracy, 45 years old, 2507 Aubert avenue, a motorman employed by the Chicago surface line, died at the Alexian Brothers' hospital yesterday from blood poisoning which developed in an injury to his left thumb.

A SMART STORE FOR SMART WOMEN

PROGRESS

To be Fashion Leaders! This is the ideal toward which we have striven for years—with all our energy, our thought, and our resources. We wish to present constantly the smartest in Apparel, Costume Accessories, Lingerie, Toiletries, Shoes and Silks. The leadership we have created is maintained not only by style and quality, but by excellent workmanship, and prices that are always fair—never so low as to exclude quality, and never as high as an article's exclusiveness might justify. Perfection has always been our first consideration; that is why we have developed one of the largest Women's Specialty Stores in the world. The year 1927 was unusually interesting for us—one of the most important in our history. Our friends will be pleased at the many changes and improvements we have made during the past year. Here are a few of them:

- 1 Our new Gift Galleries—above the main floor—a gem of Modern Art. In it will be found the rarest of Gifts, many of Europe's choicest—many of them designed especially for Chas. A. Stevens & Bros.
- 2 An entire floor devoted exclusively to dresses in which are Misses' and Women's sizes—the fourth floor. Here, in one large collection, is the most comprehensive offering of Gowns that we have ever made.
- 3 The new Salon of Formal Fashions—it is reserved for French Models and other exclusive Model Gowns, on the Fourth Floor—known as the Ivory Panel Room.
- 4 A new Frock Section where exclusive styles, priced at $25, $35 and $45, are featured under the name of "Stephanie Frocks." Their style and low pricing make them remarkable.
- 5 An entire State Street floor devoted entirely to Coats—Women's and Misses'—the third floor. This offers an exceptional opportunity for selection of Stevens' Quality Coats.
- 6 The "Shoe Box" on the Fifth Floor, opened at the beginning of last summer, with shoes for the younger set, proved so dashing a success, both in its merchandise and its setting, that we have had to more than double its size.
- 7 The "Powder Box," our smart and unusual beauty shop, has doubled its capacity—adding a new Haircutting Room, French Facial Rooms, and also a Chiropodist. Our charming and individual French Finger Waves are the talk of smart Chicago.
- 8 The "Silhouette Shop" on the Sixth Floor. Something entirely new! It is the department that specializes in Body Beauty and is proving to be one of our most popular departments.
- 9 A whole corps of new alteration rooms on the Seventh Floor, greatly improved and extremely efficient. For six months we experimented on new systems and methods and now our record of satisfied customers is so nearly perfect that it is a cause for amazement to visiting merchants.
- 10 Our new Shop in the Stevens Hotel—one of the most beautiful shops in existence. If you have not seen it you have a pleasure to look forward to. Its appointments are exquisite and you will find there selections of our finest merchandise. It is a miniature Chas. A. Stevens & Bros. store. Almost every department is represented.

This is only a record of the new things we did the past year. All our other sections have been maintaining their established popularity as before. And all the time our buying organization is in constant contact with the style centers of the world, eager to be the first to present to Chicago women the newest and most intriguing fashions.

This week is our Spring Opening. Enthusiastically we present the finest merchandise and the best equipped store in our history.

THE RUSSIAN MASK AT GENEVA.

Soviet Russia with a full sense of mischief making is pressing the disarmament proposal at the league of nations conference at Geneva. Germany, whose army is limited and navy extinguished by treaty, supports Russia. So also does Turkey, which cannot provide its own armaments. Russia proposes a complete disarmament within four years. Maxim Litvinoff, the soviet delegate, is eloquent. Much of the time he looks at Ambassador Hugh Gibson, the American who is sitting in the conference.

Mr. Gibson represents a nation whose government is urging the acceptance of treaties declaring war to be out of human consideration as a method of determining international affairs. But Litvinoff gets nothing from him. The conference is supposed to be searching for a way of disarmament, but Litvinoff gets nothing from it. The league is a refrigerator. The Russians have leave to put their ideas on it.

Eminent leagueists may outtalk themselves frequently, but they seldom are where they cannot pick up the high hat and quietly glide out of the scene. If the reception given a disarmament proposal by a world peace brotherhood is comic the reception of it is grotesque.

Soviet Russia is the product of a revolution which discarded humanity as its first step. It was ushered upon the world scene as a reversion to old Tartar barbarity. The statistics of its slaughter houses have not been compiled adequately, but the figures go into the millions. It was not for the most part execution of political opponents and counter revolutionists, but the destruction of specified classes of population, people of better intelligence, people of small property, and people who lived by trade and shopkeeping, as well as aristocrats.

The extermination of the czar and his family would be justified by revolutionists as required by the safety of the revolution, but the method of the butchery was congenial to a determined savagery and was exemplary as such. It was not only retribution for the crimes of czarism, but it was indicative of the worse crimes of Red communism. The record must go back to ancient monarchs to find parallels for the massacre of innocents which spread everywhere the soviet sent their executioners. All doctrines of humanity were expunged, and terror, brutality, famine and disease ruled. Intelligence was destroyed, morals debauched, and millions of Russians were deprived of the means of keeping alive. From this appalling scene the soviet called for a world revolution.

In the dealings of Red Russia with other nations there is the avowed doctrine of repudiation. Whenever other countries have admitted soviet representatives to diplomatic or trading relations they have found that intrigue against government has been set afoot. They have found communist agents boring into radical sections of the population, fomenting disorders and strikes, and promoting overthrow of government. Great Britain found a Russian trading company in such efforts and deported the whole establishment. Diplomatic immunity is used as a cover for the agent of provocation.

It is an accepted soviet doctrine that a communist state cannot exist in competition with individualistic nations. It must overthrow private possession of property and representative democracy before the dictatorship of the proletariat is safe. Communism is engaged in war with the other nations. It is not a war in which the Red army is used, but if the soviet refrain from aggression with arms it is a sound conclusion that they do so because they know it would unite Europe against them and would be hopeless. Russia has the men, but not the industrial organization for a great war against competent powers. The industrial incompetence of communism is a restraint holding back its military man power.

Europe is justified in regarding the Russian disarmament proposal as a war move, not a peace move. It apparently does so regard it, but the league of nations as a debating society has earned whatever embarrasment it gets. It tries to mix play of word with practicality of action. Its pretenses expose it to the Russian demand that the world junk all armaments and give the Russian maces a chance to do their masters' bidding, and carry out the world revolution of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

MORE PRESSING THAN CONSOLIDATION.

The news from New York indicates that negotiations for railroad consolidation east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio are progressing. Unofficially it has been said that a proposal to merge all the principal lines in the territory into four great systems will be referred for approval to the interstate commerce commission within a few weeks.

We do not wish to place ourselves in opposition

In the movement for consolidation, but we believe it is unfortunate that so much of the energy of railroad executives is being directed at what, after all, are only financial rearrangements. The railroads are in much greater need of a renaissance of the engineering viewpoint in management. Our trains are too slow. Our grades are frequently needlessly steep; our routes are often wastefully circuitous. These are all matters for the engineer. Consolidation may make it possible for the railroads to finance their betterment programs with less difficulty than at present, but we have no guarantee that advantage will be taken of easier credits to work the desired improvements. The fact is that many of the lines can now borrow on terms as favorable as they are ever likely to enjoy.

COMPROMISE ON LOOP PARKING.

The loop nonparking ordinance has been in effect a little over two months. During these two months it has been applauded by a good many people and denounced by a good many more. A test case is being taken up to the state supreme court, where the legality of the ordinance will be tested. It is hoped that a decision may be had in June. It has been said that the ordinance will be left untouched for at least a month, perhaps two months, longer.

Why must the ordinance be left as it is? Why not, in the time required before the supreme court can act, adopt some compromise measure and see how it works?

When opponents of the ordinance attacked it the moment it had gone into effect we were among those who urged a fair test. We think that during more than two months a pretty fair test has been had. The opposition persists. Why not amend the ordinance slightly and see whether that remedies the conditions complained of?

What most motorists and loop business men are after is a rule that will allow a car to be parked for the few minutes it takes to make a bank deposit or to do an errand in the store. Nobody wants a long parking limit, which defeats the end in view by permitting a few motorists to monopolize the available curb space. The aim is to give the most benefit to the largest possible number of people, and it ought to be possible, by testing out various time limits, to arrive at a minimum limit which will still help keep the congestion down and yet not discriminate against the loop in favor of business districts where parking is permitted.

THE CHICAGO FAIR, PLACE TO SPEND THE 1933 VACATION.

Wisely, the Chicagoans charged with the preparations for the coming world's fair have refrained from adopting a set program. They have preferred to let things simmer for a time, receiving suggestions here and listening to ideas there, proceeding slowly with the formation of committees certain that the plans will shape themselves in the end, as they will.

Every one realizes that this world's fair must be different from other world's fairs, that, in the strict sense of the word, it may not turn out to be a world's fair at all, but some entirely different type of celebration. The failure of the sequel-entennial exposition at Philadelphia has been taken to mean that the old style fair was out of date.

What must Chicago do, then? The committee in charge has said that it welcomed suggestions. We suggested some time ago that one aim of the fair should be the bringing to Chicago during that year of every great sporting event and every great annual exhibition—the Olympic games, the Army-Navy and Harvard-Yale games, all the national and international trade and industrial shows, and every national convention of the year.

We now venture one more general suggestion. It is that the advertising of the fair should show this end in view, to let the people of the country know that coming to the Chicago fair will not be a matter of coming for a day or so in order to walk through monumental buildings to see exhibits, but that Chicago in fair year is to be the most desirable place in the country at any time during the year to spend the annual two weeks' vacation.

That should be the psychology of it, as we see it, and we know of no other city that can so justly claim an appeal. There will be the usual exposition buildings, of course; but there will be much more. Beginning with the first of the year and ending with the last, every week will be marked by some event of national importance; every usual Chicago attraction, the opera, the rodeo, the live stock show, will be enhanced into far greater attractiveness. And in addition, there is Chicago itself with its lake, its beaches, its parks, its forest preserves, its new zoological park, its theaters, its museums, its stores, its hotels.

The idea is that the Chicago fair is to be not just an exposition, but a vacation. Everybody who has ever wanted to see Chicago will want to see it during that centennial year and can come with the knowledge that every day of the two or three or four weeks can be filled with what Chicago offers in the way of attractions.

Chicago will surpass any other spot in the world as the place to spend the vacation in 1933.

Editorial of the Day

LANE DUCKS HANG ON.

(Louisville (Ky.) Herald-Post.)

It is no harder to make a dog give up a bone, once he has put his teeth in it, than to make the average officeholder surrender a job. Only on that score can the house of representatives be called "lame duck" session of congress be explained. While the Norris amendment received a majority in the lower house, it didn't receive the necessary two-thirds. Thus the house showed itself somewhat below the senate in disinterested public spirit.

Although changing the time of convening congress to the January after the election, as the Norris amendment proposes, neither abolishes nor creates jobs, it would curtail the terms of office of those congressmen who happen to meet defeat just prior to the amendment's ratification. Instead of hanging on for an extra thirteen months after the voters have made it plain they aren't wanted, they would have to get out in just two months. It would adjust itself to succeeding sessions, but that single class of lame ducks would grate after an abbreviated course.

That the house should defeat so urgently needed a reform after the senate had passed it four times is discouraging to those who hoped for modernization of the legislative machinery. Representatives don't go to Washington any longer in stage coaches, but they decline to alter a situation created by that primitive mode of transportation. It would be just as sensible to insist upon writing with goose quill and sand, despite the advent of the typewriter, because a first congress employed only holographic records.

NO INTEREST IN LIFE.

Husband (anxiously)—My wife seems not to have the slightest interest in life.

Doctor—What makes you think that?

Husband—Well, I've tried her with golf, billiards, football and racing, and it's just like talking to a stone.

(Montreal Star.)

PREVENTING COLDS BY ULTRAVIOLET RAYS.

AUGHAN and Smiley have been reasonably successful in preventing colds by having people take

M treatment with ultraviolet one week during the black months, December is the blackest month. The other black months follow, in the order of their blackness: January, November, February and March. The ultraviolet light treatment consists of an exposure for ten minutes to a mercury vapor lamp held at a distance of 30 inches from the skin.

The clinical test was made with more than 500 students in Cornell university. For several years Drs. Maughan and Smiley have been studying the prevalence of colds in this student body. By this type of preventive treatment they succeeded in reducing the rate of prevalence of colds in this group of men by somewhat between 25 and 40 per cent. There were still colds enough left to go around, but the reduction was well worth while.

The investigators suggest that somebody conduct a similar test in given to see how much the prevalence of colds can be reduced by a diet rich in orange juice and leafy vegetables, or by diets containing cod liver oil, or milk and eggs obtained from related cows and hens.

Drs. Maughan and Smiley quote McKenlie and Kling as advising the treatment of attacks of acute colds by local and general radiation. Note this opinion relates to treatment whereas the paper relates to prevention. They also quote Leonard Hill, a great authority, as saying the reason outdoor children have so few colds is because they are protected by the action of the sunlight on their protective tissues. The report also discussed the effects of ultraviolet light on the physiology and chemistry of the body.

There is no question but that ultraviolet can do harm as well as good. Therefore the investigators were on the lookout for harmful effects. About two per cent of the students appeared to be harmed.

The investigators concluded that exposure at 30 inches distance was about right. Likewise, for about ten minutes. They sought to produce an exceedingly faint reddening of the skin. No reddening at all was effective. A plainly noticeable reddening was far too much.

UNCLAIMED STATE BONUSES.

Chicago, March 18.—(Friend of the People.)—I understand that the house board which handled the Illinois state soldier bonus has been closed. I never received my bonus, although they sent me a check card, with the number on it. I have lived in Canada for several years so it may be that they did not have my change of address, although I wrote them a letter just before I left here. Please advise me what to do.

We have been a list of the unpaid Illinois bonus checks which show a total of 464 unpaid cash claims and 50 unpaid claims for bonds. If you can let us know how we shall be glad to search the list for you. Or you may write direct to the address given: Springfield, Ill.

IT ALL DEPENDS.

Chicago, March 18.—(Legal Friend of the People.)—Is there any way a man can be compelled to sign to sell property? The property is in both names, husband and wife. The wife is willing to sell and has a husband who refuses to sign after saying he would sell for so much. After property is sold the wife is going to sue for divorce but does not want to start proceedings until she gets her share of the money. She has her money that bought the first home.

R. C. In general where owners of an undivided interest in real estate cannot agree the disinterested person should be put in position which leads to a public sale and the proceeds are distributed after deducting all costs. A list of several lawyers having refused to take him. Can they be compelled to take him, as the son he lives with is sickly and not able to work the time? In fact, his wife has to work.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY MARCH 21, 1918. WASHINGTON, D. C.—Upon Holland's refusal, in the face of German threats, to put into effect her voluntary agreement for restoring her merchant marine to normal activity, the United States government tonight requisitioned all Dutch ships in American waters.

CHICAGO.—The engagement is announced of Miss Gertrude Hubert, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Frank Hubert, to William Melbourne King, 10 East Elm street.

MILWAUKEE.—Miss Nance O'Neil, 1915 N. Leavenworth, has been nominated by the Republicans for Wisconsin United States senator by a majority over James Thompson, the La Follette candidate, of 5,500.

CHICAGO.—Judge John P. McGorty was elected president of the Wisconsin society of Chicago at its annual meeting at the Mid-Day club.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 21, 1928. WASHINGTON, D. C.—It is admitted here that a partial report of the findings of the board of inquiry on the sinking of the Maine has been received. Secretary Long, it is said, has changed his views and now believes war is almost inevitable. President McKinley expects the board report by Tuesday. He will promptly submit it to congress and expects action that will lead to intervention. Spain is playing for delay and arbitration. France is willing to take the initiative.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

VILLANELLE OF A LADY CONTENT.

Husbands are cast in no perfect mould (A sentiment probably rather trite) And they're rarely Adonises to behold.

They always refuse to do as they're told; Unshaven, they look like a genuine fright; Husbands are cast in no perfect mould.

They paw one at times, or else they're too cold; Their bark oftentimes is as bad as a bite And they're rarely Adonises to behold.

They sometimes come home late as a wolf on the fold (A: a: savage), when business does not go right; Husbands are cast in no perfect mould.

They're likely to fall for a vampire bold, Especially once they are out of sight, And they're rarely Adonises to behold.

But I wouldn't trade mine for a gallon of gold, For I know though he acts not, nor looks like a knight, Husbands are cast in no perfect mould And they're rarely Adonises to behold.

WE'D LIKE to be king for a day. The day we'd choose would be next Saturday and the king would be George V. of England. It always gave us a pain in the neck that whenever the king of England had to pass through the city of London he was stopped on the boundaries of the city until the lord mayor of the city gave him permission to come on in. Why should the king of England be stopped by a fat lord mayor strutting around in a masquerade costume? That's why we want to be king next Saturday. We've got a wise crack that would make the lord mayor feel like a wooden nickel. If we were king for next Saturday, when the royal coach was stopped on the site of old Temple Bar, we would lean out of the window and, addressing the First Assistant Master of the Bookbonds, we'd say, "What's the big idea of parking here?" Then the lord mayor, all swelled up, would send up the ancient ivory handled sword for us to touch and return to him. We'd say we'd say when the sword was extended to us: "Looks like a pretty bum sword. Tell the lord mayor we'll give him 50 cents for it and not a penny more." Oh, the hollow sound from the lord mayor, as he faints, or died, or something, would be music to our ears.

Horny-Handed Sons of Toil

R. H. L.: "Paris to Card Dancng Men as Laborers." W. G. N. headlines. Recollecting some of the dames (most of them fat and fifty) that the poor boys have to drag around the dance floor, I'll tell the world they ought to be classed as laborers!

CHIEF BACON RIND of the Osage Indian tribe of Oklahoma appeared before the congressional Indian committee in Washington yesterday and pleaded for the oil rights of the Indians to be protected. Chief Bacon Rind was in native costume and carried a tomahawk. He probably had the tomahawk ready in case anybody asked him if the oil he was talking about came from Teapot Dome. Indians are terribly sensitive.

YES, START IT ALL OVER RHIL: The trend of the times is mechanical. Now, while we are not less spiritual than we were, we are, without a doubt, more inclined to machinery. But there is something wrong with that statement, I do believe, because there can be only 100 per cent of anything—what percentage we give over to cog and wheel must necessarily be knocked off the Incorporated. . . . And I guess I'd better start this thing all over. A lady called a taxi to take her to church. "I will need," she said, to her husband, who was deep in the Sunday paper, "75 cents for the taxicab and 25 cents for the collection." "I don't suppose," suggested her good and faithful spouse, dragging a dollar from his pocket, "that you ever thought of taking a street car to church?" "AW, now, duckypoke," cooed the wife, "you know very well we never in our lives put more than a quarter on the plate!" ORACLE.

OUR LEFT LAMP has been out of commission for a week, so yesterday we went down to our oculist. "Well," he said, severely, "let's see your eye." He spoke as though we were carrying the eye around in our overcoat pocket. "It's up there," said we, "behind the spectacles." The doc put a reflector on his head and then glared long and menacingly through a magnifying glass at the sick eye. "What have you been doing with that eye?" he demanded, sharply. He made us believe we had been playing marbles with the eye or something. "I haven't been doing anything with it," we said. "We haven't taken it out of our head since we've had it." "Well, it looks like somebody's been walking back and forth on it," said the doc. We said nothing, but we thought how ridiculous were the doctor's words. How could anybody walk back and forth on our eye without us knowing it? Quite absurd. Still an oculist knows a lot. That's why they charge so much. We took the prescription the doc handed us and went away. But now we're on our guard. And if the party or parties who have been walking back and forth on our eye try to repeat the performance there's going to be trouble. We've got our eyes open. Anyhow, we've got one open.

ILLINOIS CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT.

Hinsdale, Ill., March 18.—The most important thing for the citizens of Illinois to do now is to rid themselves, lock, stock and barrel, of the whole precious bunch of unworthy political buccannars who are making personal assets of the governments of city, county, and state, and bringing the state into disrepute before the nation. To accomplish this many citizens who would otherwise desire to make their influence felt in national politics undoubtedly will be willing to waive their personal preferences for President and aid in the movement to advance the interests of the home candidate.

But in doing this they should be assured that their national delegates will not again spring such a betrayal of the voters' desires as resulted in the nomination of Harding in 1920, and make no attempt to vote for the candidate who would be most acceptable to their constituents in the event that it develops that the home candidate has no chance. In nearly every Republican convention, since the civil war, Illinois has been voted for by what courtesy were called "favorite sons," but who could not have carried a primary with the other candidates in it, so that the politicians could use the state for trading purposes. I recall Cullom, Gresham, and Joe Cannon as among these favorite sons.

There are many Republicans in the state who regard Herbert Hoover as head and shoulders above the other candidates for President. If he was elected in the primaries and an active fight made for him it is not at all certain that Lowden or Dawes would be preferred to him. Most certainly he is the overwhelming second choice of the voters of the nation.

If the delegates of Illinois therefore in the convention this year with Lowden and Dawes out of the race pass Herbert Hoover up and vote for a candidate selected by a half dozen men in a back room, as Daugherty said would be done in 1920 when Harding was nominated and was done, then the reputation these delegates should receive is a coat of tar and feathers.

In 1912 Theodore Roosevelt was the overwhelming choice of the nation for President. The old guard flouted the desires of the people and nominated Taft.

In 1920, Wood, Johnson, Hoover, and Lowden led in the primaries and in the exhaustive straw votes in the order named, yet Harding who had only part of the delegates from his own state was given the nomination and the country the malodorous scandals that followed.

In leaving Illinois open only to its favorite son, Frank A. Lowden, there should be a full and complete understanding that in the event of his candidacy or that of Gen. Dawes falling, the delegates will not join in any movement of the field to head off the man who seems to be the country's favorite, Herbert Hoover.

THE INTENT TO KILL.

Chicago, March 17.—How can a sentence of death be passed upon Dr. Ron- gone in the absence of evidence he had wilful intention to take life? We have always understood that "intent to kill" was the sole justification for passing extreme sentence upon an accused criminal. Moreover the victim of his illegal operation willingly sought his treatment! Will no one plead for justice to this helpless man in these unusual circumstances? LOREL INEE GARRISON.

THE SPRING EXPOSITION

The sports mode... above all an American contribution to the world of chic... is expressive of the activity and vigor of the American scene. Paris sponsored, this most youthful of the modes is also the most varied and ingenious. Thus an entire daytime wardrobe may come under the category of sports things... from the active sports frock where everything irrelevant to agility is ruled out... to delightfully informal semisports wear. In our Sports Apparel Section every new mode finds instant representation. This vivacious sketch by Benigni depicts Patou's newest version of the now classic cardigan... Premet's knit frock, "Boule de Gomme"... Talbot's smart little ensemble, "Racing"... imported by the Sports Section.

Riviera tennis frocks are new from Paris, ideally composed of sleeveless sweater and plaited skirt. Our Sports Apparel has them!

The sailor collar has sprung into vogue with renewed interest in yachting. The Sports Section has them... some of silk pique!

A new sports ensemble consists of knit skirt and sweater... hat and bag woven of raffia to match. Imported by the Sports Apparel... sixth floor.

Rodier's "La Diagonale Kashabur" and "5445," a celtic weave, are among the new sports importations in Woolen Fabrics, second floor.

Debonair Silks, having the softness and richness of French handloomed cashmeres are perfect for sportswear and exclusive with "Silks from Field".

A Fashion Show of new Spring styles will be held in the Wedgwood Room, seventh floor, daily, at 3:30, March 22 to 27. Admission by card only, obtainable free at the Information Bureau, third floor.

EXHUME BODY OF BRIDE SLAIN BY PISTOL SHOT

Tests Made Here to Solve
Morris Mystery.

Investigation of the mysterious death of a young bride in Morris, Ill., was under way yesterday. Three theories confront the authorities, one leaning toward suicide, another accidental death, and the third, murder. Dr. Joseph Springer, criminologist for the Chicago police department, has been retained in efforts to solve the mystery.

Mrs. Mabel George McKen, 22 years old, daughter of a well-to-do Aurora, Ill., automobile dealer, was the victim in the death puzzle. She was married eighteen months ago to Gerald McKen, 25 years old, a farmer living near Morris. Five months ago their first baby was born.

Killed by Bullet.

On the morning of Feb. 6 Mrs. McKen telephoned to her father, Elmer George, in Aurora, and declared she was about to start out for Aurora for a visit of several days with her parents. The same afternoon she was found lying on the bed in her farm house, a bullet wound through her skull. The bullet was found imbedded in the wall.

Close to her right hand was a .32 caliber automatic. A coroner's jury made an investigation, but was unable to decide how the wound was inflicted and returned a verdict of accidental death.

The young woman's father was not satisfied to let the matter drop as a mystery and after discussing the matter with people in Morris and Aurora he came to Chicago and consulted with Dr. Springer. After the criminologist had received the consent of State's Attorney Frank Flood of Grundy county he agreed to investigate the case and on Friday went to Morris.

Plans Chemical Tests.

Mrs. McKen's body was exhumed, and Dr. Springer made a detailed examination of the wound, but he was unable to tell positively whether the gun was fired at close range, or from a distance. He removed portions of the brain and other tissues and announced he would examine them chemically for traces of gunpowder, which he declared would be present if the gun was fired by the young woman.

No motive for any one to take Mrs. McKen's life has been discovered, and both her husband and her parents declare she had no reason for suicide. There were no signs of a struggle in her bedroom, and nothing was taken from the farmhouse.

Hunt in Vain for Family of 2 Year Old Johnnie

The lost 2 year old boy picked up near 630 West Division street last Friday, who knows only that his name is Johnnie, that he has a baby sister, "Honey," and a mamma and daddy, played about the lawns at St. Vincent's Villa for Orphans at Park Ridge yesterday. "He seems quite happy and never cries for home," said Sister Theresa, "but we are at a loss to understand the case. He was well dressed and evidently had parents who cared for him, but all the investigations we have made have failed to find his people."

GROUP IS NAMED TO PLAN CHICAGO WAR MEMORIAL

John A. Holabird Is Made Chairman.

Plans for erection of a memorial to commemorate the part played by Chicagoans in the world war took shape yesterday with the appointment of a war memorial committee by James Simpson, chairman of the Chicago plan commission.

John A. Holabird, named chairman of the committee, gave notice of his acceptance and stated that he expected to call a conference within the next two weeks.

Others appointed on the committee are Howard P. Savage, former national commander of the American Legion; R. P. Lamont, Col. A. A. Sprague, W. Rufus Abbott, Brig. Gen. Abel Davis, Col. Robert R. McCormick, Julius Rosendahl, Sewell L. Avery, Roy D. Keen and Edward H. Bennett.

"I'm getting in touch with members of the committee, at least two of whom are out of the city at present, and at the earliest possible date a meeting will be held," said Mr. Holabird. In announcing the committee Mr. Simpson pointed out that "though the great war ended nearly ten years ago, Chicago has not yet provided a memorial worthy of the event and worthy of the city."

"Unceasing efforts towards this end have been made, it is true," he continued, "on the part of the G. A. R., the American Legion, the Gold Star Mothers and fathers, the War Memorial Extension committee of the Chicago Woman's club, and other organizations."

"It must not be thought that I personally, or the Chicago Plan commission, have any preference as to the type of the memorial, its location, cost, or any other feature in connection therewith. Our interest primarily, is to see that a suitable memorial of a suitable type, is constructed in the appropriate location, so that the memory of the war and of those who participated in it may be adequately observed by this great city."

Mr. Simpson added that the American Battle Monuments commission, appointed by congress, offers a good example of war memorial activity.

2 Stills Found on Dry Chief's Farm; Sentenced to 5 Years

Littleton, Colo., March 20.—Clifton H. Wilder, former head of the Colorado prohibition enforcement department, today was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary for violation of the state anti-still law. Wilder charged that the two stills found at his farm had been placed there by enemies.

E. J. KELLY SLATED FOR RE-ELECTION BY PARK BOARD

of Commission.

President Edward J. Kelly of the south park commissioners is slated for reelection when the board meets this afternoon for its annual election of officers. It was learned yesterday that other officers and appointees of the board are also expected to continue for another year. "I anticipate no great change in the park's officers and personnel," Commissioner Louis J. Behan said yesterday.

A tentative proposal to erect a million dollar statue of Alexander Hamilton in Grant park had been forwarded to the board by a committee representing Mrs. Kate S. Buckingham, Mr. Behan said, but he believed that no definite action would be taken by the board today.

Other park officials said that nothing definite was contained in the offer from Mrs. Buckingham, which had been advanced, they said, to sound out the attitude of the board. It was pointed out that a statue of Hamilton already stands in Grant park near Adams street.

Workmen yesterday began tearing down the wooden stands at the north end of the Soldiers' field stadium in Grant park. A one million three hundred thousand dollar contract calling for the completion of the stadium before the opening of the football season next fall was recently let to John Griffith and Son.

ARCHITECTS URGE CONGRESS ST. AS SUPERHIGHWAY

Congress street instead of Madison or Polk streets is recommended as a west side superhighway in resolutions adopted and forwarded to the city council yesterday by the Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Bond issues of $4,000,000 and $2,000,000 to start the widening of Madison and Polk streets are to be placed on proposition ballots at the April 10 primary election, the former at the instance of Mayor Thompson, who overrode the objections of the Chicago Plan commission. The commission, for years, had contemplated the improvement of Congress street. The resolutions point out that deviation from the Chicago plan, "which is comprehensive and coordinated," would set a dangerous precedent.

Corps of Honor Planned for Chicago Boy Scouts

The formation of a Boy Scout corps of honor, to be made up of Chicago's 97 eagle Scouts and others who later qualify, and to be known as the civic service corps, was approved yesterday at the monthly meeting of the Scout executive committee in the Palmer house. The new corps will be the official Scout group body to serve at important events in the city, such as the public reception of distinguished visitors, according to the plan.

CHARGE SUICIDE TO INSANITY.

All these Stars of the New York Successes use Lux Toilet Soap for smooth skin

YOUTHFUL, smooth skin! How carefully stage stars guard their alluring loveliness—they give it the same scrupulous care that nine out of ten screen stars have chosen.

For a series of personal interviews recently made, shows that an overwhelming majority of the stars in all the New York successes use Lux Toilet Soap.

White, satin-smooth skin—in the critical theatrical world Lux Toilet Soap has been selected at the request of the players, for leading theatres throughout the country, just as it has been chosen as the official soap in the dressing rooms of all the great movie studios. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Gentlemen:

You may be interested to know that we have chosen LUX TOILET SOAP as the official soap in all dressing rooms in our numerous theatres throughout the world. We find that there is an overwhelming preference for Lux Toilet Soap among stage folk since they find it agrees with their skin so perfectly.

Senators Call Them to Appear at Inquiry.

other investigations in coal. He said he had sat through three.

"And they never do anything," Senator Watson said. "Perhaps congress is not aroused. Perhaps they don't know what to do."

What Would Hoover Do?

"What would you do if you were President?" he was asked.

"Well, I've got a hurdle or two yet."

"What would Hoover do?"

"Well, I'd rather answer that privately."

"If there is anything more fundamentally wrong in our national life today I want to know it," said Miss Hurst. In closing her testimony.

"It is dangerous to government, wrong as we are," said Senator Gooding [Rep., Idaho].

"The indifference of the government of Pennsylvania is what has brought it here," said Senator Wagner.

Spread of Radicalism.

The Rev. J. T. Carr of the Presbyterian church of Bentleyville, Pa., told of the spread of radicalism among the strikers by the Pennsylvania-Ohio relief committee.

Mr. Carr told of many shootings by coal and iron police but said that prosecutions of these cases strangely languished. The coal company, he said, attempted political control of the town through strike breaking negroes.

Father John S. Kruk of Ellsworth, Pa., said the coal company in the town, controlled by the Bethlehem steel company, had shut off the water and light in his parochial school because he had attended strikers' meetings. He had tried to tell Mr. Schwab of conditions in the town, he said, but never had been able to get near him.

The Rev. W. G. Newell of Houston, Pa., said he was driven from the company house ordinarily set aside for the pastor by the Pittsburgh Coal company because he was sympathetic with the miners. He tried to reconcile the two sides, he said, but was told by the company superintendent that it would be useless. Strike breakers were ordered to keep away from his church.

YELLOW KID WEIL IN CELL HAS HAND OUT FOR MONEY

Prison confinement has not dimmed the spirit of Joseph ("Yellow Kid") Weil, con man. Hundreds of Chicagoans yesterday received letters appealing for donations for the benefit of Jewish prisoners in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas. The appeals were signed by "Joseph Weil, president Jewish congregation."

"The 100 Jewish prisoners here have been given the privilege of celebrating the eight days of the passover by our esteemed warden, T. B. White," the letter read. "On account of our incarceration, however, we do not have the funds to celebrate this festival."

"We are therefore appealing to our Jewish brethren. If we are successful in securing the necessary funds a proper celebration of the festival will be possible. A donation, either in form of money or provisions, will assist us materially."

FRENCH JOURNAL URGES SELLING ISLANDS TO U. S.

PARIS, March 20.—[U. P.]—In 1803 the young United States was considered to have made a good Yankee bargain—and Napoleon to have made a bad one—when Bonaparte put Louisiana on the counter for $15,000,000. For a time history condemned Napoleon, but today French critics call it a master stroke of colonial finance and lend support to the general idea that the United States be allowed to buy up the French, English, and Dutch colonial possessions in the West Indies.

The French weekly, L'Illustration, voices the opinion that just as it was cheaper for Napoleon to sell the Louisiana territory than for the United States to fight him for it so is it to France's advantage now to dispose of Martinique, Guadeloupe, St. Barthélemy, and Marie-Galante for cash.

"One consideration above all," it says, "is that before the end of the present century the United States will be a world power without equal. Today she respects our historic tradition and would not attack us. But tomorrow she would not know how to protect herself against her."

L'Illustration draws a contrast between the French possession of islands to which she holds for sentimental reasons and the spirit of good business which prompted Denmark to sell to the United States in 1917 the Virgin island group.

That acquisition was made at a purchase price of $25,000,000 for 132 square miles. The whole Louisiana purchase of 827,987 square miles cost $27,367,622.

The remaining French Windward island possessions would have to bring an offer four times greater than the Virgin island transfer price. Although

COURT REFUSES ANNULMENT PLEA OF PARTY BRIDE

Finds She Is No. 3 in Husband's Wife List.

When she married Andrew Pratt in St. Patrick's day ceremony 18 years ago, Edna Eastwood of 4826 Gladys avenue thought she had first place in the life and his heart. When she found out that she was wife No. 3 on the list and that he didn't have a job, she not only cooled, but evaporated, she told Judge Harry A. Lewis in superior court yesterday.

Unable to do anything about that, Judge Lewis ruled, that since he could not force her to live with her husband, the only thing to be done was to wait two years, when the husband could sue for divorce on grounds of desertion. He frowned down her plea for annulment with an admonition that marriage is something to be thought about both before and after it is entered into, and that for two years she would continue to be a wife, at least in name.

How to Andrew, Too.
That was a blow also to Andrew, who has gone through three marriage ceremonies and still finds himself without a bride. He was married once, on a five day acquaintance, to a Chicago girl visiting near his home in Michigan, and that marriage was annulled. He married another Chicago girl and lived with her a short time in Florida, Mich. That ended in a divorce.

Both his former wives have since remarried and both are living in Chicago, he said last night, but he refused to disclose the identity of either. Then he married Edna Eastwood as a sequel to a St. Patrick's party, but the ceremony proved vastly unpopular with her parents when they went to break the news to mother and father.

She Tells Him It's Ended.
He applied for a writ of habeas corpus and forced Wilson Eastwood, his father-in-law, to produce his daughter in court yesterday. Even that move didn't turn out so well, however, when the wife he claims is devoted to him, told him snappily that she had found out he had been married before and that love's young dream had ended. "Two years for both of you," said Judge Lewis.

"Say, do you mean I'm still married to her? Is she still my wife?" demanded the deserted bridegroom. "Yes, and I guess that ends it," answered the judge. "After two years you can sue for divorce if you wish."

MUNDELEIN GETS ROYAL HONORS AS HE LEAVES ROME

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ROME, March 20.—Carrying architectural plans and sketches of the new Propaganda Fide college to be constructed with the $1,500,000 loan raised in Chicago, George Cardinal Mundelein and his party left Rome at noon today en route to America.

Cardinal Mundelein said his visit to the Eternal City had been the most pleasant he has made. He expressed satisfaction with the plans, both financial and administrative, for the new building, which he expects to see completed when he returns to Rome next year.

Representatives of every department of the Vatican and other church institutions in Rome had said farewell to the Chicago archbishop in formal visits to his hotel yesterday. Nevertheless, a large crowd of students of the Propaganda Fide and other prelates gathered at the station this morning. The cardinal was ushered into the royal waiting room and the officials on duty paid him royal honors. All greeted him with the Fascist salute.

Magr. Eugene S. Burke of the American college of Rome and seven Chicago students in the Canadian college here were among those at the station. Cardinal Mundelein said he was greatly pleased with the magnificent gift of books given him by Pope Pius.

CANADA DEMANDS U. S. MARKETS AS WATERWAY PRICE

BY GEORGE SMITH.
[Special Tribune Press Service.]
CHICAGO, March 20.—Canada demanding access to the United States markets with her wheat, live poultry, fish, potatoes, and other primary products, as part of the St. Lawrence waterways international development deal.

Demand Tariff Reductions.
In the negotiations which already have taken place, official publication of the deal is still withheld, the Canadian government states it will not be prepared to talk waterways unless the United States is prepared to talk reduction of its tariff on wheat, live poultry, and other primary products.
In Ottawa, Canada is insisting that no negotiations can take place unless the United States is prepared to waive all claim to the exportation of power arising out of the St. Lawrence development.

Takes Up Chicago Diversion.
Settlement of the Chicago diversion of lake water is also asked.
Washington is understood to have answered that none of the points raised by Canada need delay negotiations. The King government is now considering the next step. The proposal now under consideration is that each nation appoint representatives to a round table conference, out of which ultimately may come a huge trade and waterways development treaty.

PHYSICAL TEST OF PUPIL BRINGS SUIT FOR $50,000

Lillian M. Tobin, principal of the Mozart school at Palmer and Hamlin avenue, and Helen Chambers, an examiner from the bureau of child study of the board of education, were made defendants yesterday in a fifty thousand dollar damage suit filed in Circuit court by former State Senator
Daniel Webster, 2240 North Hamlin avenue, on behalf of his daughter,
Lois, aged 8.

According to Attorney Webster the case will be carried to the Supreme court if necessary to determine whether school authorities have the right, without parental consent, to make any physical examinations they may see fit.

On Jan. 12, the bill charges, the girl was brought before Helen Chambers, who proceeded to make an examination on the ground that she was backward in her studies. The defendant "violently seized and laid hold of her, struck her in the leg, neck and face, and gave her many violent blows," it is alleged. The girl was injured, and suffered a severe shock to her nervous system, the father relates.

At the bureau for child study it was asserted that the girl was given the same test, mental and physical, that is imposed each year upon more than a thousand delinquent students.

HANGS SELF IN BACK YARD.
Edward Kohn, 37 years old, committed suicide by hanging himself yesterday in the

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Food for Thought

Elmer Spends a Dull Evening with His Radio

Walter Pontius, Alone, Is Able to Interest Him.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

I cannot find so much as a slender twig upon which to hang any especially favorable comment, so featureless was radio program last evening. The quartet of singers and orchestra through W-G-N, 7 to 7:30, presented but an average program. The singing and playing filled our ears and mind with their usual full quota of musical loveliness without wasting valuable moments in unnecessary announcing.

Walter Pontius, tenor, figured on the station's 7:30 to 8 studio program. It may be well to keep an ear on this new acquisition in the radio world. He has an uncommonly good tenor voice; a voice of youth, flexibility, and tremendous enthusiasm that occasionally carries him too far in the realm of emotionalism. Alongside his naturally excellent voice is an unusually clear and distinct enunciation, a virtue strongly to be commended. Few singers equal or even approach Mr. Pontius in this important complement in the making of a 100 per cent radio singer.

In this same program Grant Gardner's autoharp again filled the air with its strange sounding tones. Perhaps instead of a tone resembling a combination of zither, music box, and harpsichord, as was suggested in this column recently, the effect would more nearly find a parallel in a carillon of small size. Anyhow, this autoharp has most pleasing qualities.

The 9:30 to 10 studio program devoted to music of colonial period, or therabouts, with Miss Kathleen Ryan contralto, and an orchestra, was high class salon music and, likewise, high class entertainment.

Mme. Marie Sidenius Zandt, soprano, and Hugh Dickerson, bass, made an artistic vocal combination at W-L-B, 7:30 to 8.

Synthesized jazz arrangements of popular classics was the ear-catcher on an orchestra program through KTW, 8:30 to 9:30. You can take these one-two-three-four fox trot rearranged and mixed up concoctions for what they may be worth, remembering that these sugar coated catchy strains may catch those who are not yet familiar with the rich musical treasures they will recognize in hearing these same pieces in their original settings.

Yet more from KTW, for through that station, 9:30 to 9:50, an instrumental quartet played Haydn's string quartet in G minor, among other selections, and at 10 o'clock an orchestra played two movements of Haydn's Fifth symphony, among other good things.

SON'S WIDOW SUES SCRIPPS' ESTATE FOR $6,000,000

Chicago, O., March 20.—(AP)—Whether the late E. W. Scripps, founder of the Scripps Howard chain of newspapers, considered his sons as legal partners or merely agents in his business was the question raised today in the Federal court hearing of the suit of Mrs. Josephine Scripps of Miramar, Cal., who seeks more than $6,000,000 from the publisher's estate.

Mrs. Scripps is the widow of James G. Scripps, one of the sons, and her suit for accounting is directed at Robert Paine Scripps of Westchester, O., youngest son and executor.

Former Judge John W. Peck, counsel for the plaintiff, told the court in his opening arguments that the elder Scripps regarded his sons as partners and had made four partial payments of profits accruing from the business, known as "partnership settlements," to James as business manager of the newspapers and John, as editorial director. He said no final settlement of profits accruing from the newspapers ever was made.

As a partner in the business, James' share of undivided profits at the time of his death was between six and ten million dollars and this sum is due his widow, Judge Peck contended.

The procession of more than a thousand automobiles which would its way from the Lackawanna home to the cemetery was headed by a police department color guard and an honor escort of 115 policemen. Five automobiles were required for the floral tributes.

Delegations from various organizations with which Mr. Smulski was affiliated were in the procession, including a committee from the city council, of which the banker formerly was a member. Active pallbearers were George R. Benson, William H. Schmidt, Cedric E. Fauntleroy, Julius P. Smietanski, August J. Kowalski, and Joseph Korzeniowski.

Funeral services were to have been held at the Holy Trinity church, according to original plans, and it was announced that a memorial service will be held in this church at a later date.

Mr. Smulski took his own life while temporarily insane from suffering caused by several operations, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury.

Noted Chicago Banker Is Laid to Rest.

More than 5,000 persons from every walk of life thronged St. Adalbert's cemetery near Niles yesterday to attend burial services for John F. Smulski, Chicago banker, who shot himself to death early Sunday in his apartment at the Seneca hotel.

Freeing the services at the grave thousands stood reverently outside the residence of Frank E. Lackowski, 2854 Logan boulevard, where the body lay in state and where private services were held. The Rev. Casimir Stuzko, pastor of Holy Trinity church, and the Rev. Thomas Quinn, pastor of St. Sylvester's church, officiated in both services.

The procession of more than a thousand automobiles which would its way from the Lackawanna home to the cemetery was headed by a police department color guard and an honor escort of 115 policemen. Five automobiles were required for the floral tributes.

Delegations from various organizations with which Mr. Smulski was affiliated were in the procession, including a committee from the city council, of which the banker formerly was a member. ### JUDGE ASSAILS WITNESSES, HOLDS BANDIT SUSPECTS

Immediately after being robbed in the imperial building, 215 South Clark street, last Saturday the 26 victims, participants in a dice game, identified Samuel Newman of 1312 West Washington street, Walter Tracy of 4224 West Madison street, and Patrick English of 841 South Winchester avenue, who were captured in the hallway, as the robbers.

When the men were arraigned in South Clark street court yesterday, however, not one of the witnesses was willing to say that any of the three defendants were of the robber trio.

Judge Matthew D. Hartigan denounced the witnesses and held the three to the grand jury on charges of robbery on the testimony of the police, who interrupted the robbery and captured the men after a chase in the hallways of the building, recovering two revolvers and a shotgun used by the bandits.

DANDRUFF Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you can destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Careless Washing Spoils Children's Hair
Any child can have beautiful, healthy and lustrous hair. It is a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and luster, all the natural color and color, and leaves it fresh, healthy, glossy and bright.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, fine young hair and tender scalps cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why thoughtful mothers everywhere now use Mulshied Coconut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure it.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulshied is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and removes dust and dirt.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly glowing with new life, gloss and luster.

You can get Mulshied Coconut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

Careless Washing Spoils Children's Hair
Any child can have beautiful, healthy and lustrous hair. It is a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and luster, all the natural color and color, and leaves it fresh, healthy, glossy and bright.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, fine young hair and tender scalps cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why thoughtful mothers everywhere now use Mulshied Coconut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure it.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulshied is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and removes dust and dirt.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly glowing with new life, gloss and luster.

You can get Mulshied Coconut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

STATE TO FIGHT
INSANITY PLEA OF
EX-JUDGE STELKClaims He Argues Well
When Jury Is Absent.

CRIMINAL COURT.

James Fitchard, robbery, sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary; Otto J. Warren, obtaining money by false pretenses, sentenced to 1 year in the penitentiary; Arthur McClelland, robbery, sentenced to 1 year in the penitentiary; the defendant, by Judge Emanuel.

John J. Stelk, former municipal clerk, who is on trial charged with counterfeiting seals of a notary public in a conspiracy to obtain possession of considerable property, sits today in the presence of the jury. His defense is that he is insane and therefore under the law he is disqualified from acting as his own attorney. His defense is that he is insane and therefore under the law he is disqualified from acting as his own attorney.

State to Call Court Attaches. Assistant State's Attorneys Irving Goldstein and Charles J. Mueller announced yesterday that they would call court employees as witnesses to the insanity defense, but will rely on the testimony of lay witnesses.

Hickson Calls Stelk Insane. Dr. William J. Hickson, director of the municipal court psychopathic laboratory, was the chief witness yesterday. He said in his opinion that Stelk has been mentally incompetent since 1915. The former judge served five years on the bench as insane man.

Another reason for the state having Stelk without alienist testimony, said the prosecutors, is that the defense has employed practically all of them to testify for Stelk, including Dr. H. Hickson. The latter for years has been considered the prosecution alienist.

U. S., GERMANY
HOLD BALANCE
IN SOVIET TRADE

BY DONALD DAY.

(Copyright, 1934, by The Chicago Tribune.)

RIGA, Latvia, March 20.—The United States and Germany are the only countries showing an active balance in their trade with Russia, according to the Moscow Ivestia. The paper publishes soviet government trade statistics for the first quarter of the bolshevik fiscal year, which begins in October. Although Washington has not yet recognized the communist dictatorship and American firms mostly are doing cash business with Moscow, the American exports to Russia greatly exceed the imports. Ivestia reports that the total turnover with the United States increased $22,350,000. About $18,700,000 consisted of imports, mostly machinery and cotton, while America purchased only $3,650,000 worth of caviar, furs, and other Russian exports.

Germany, who granted the soviet government $150,000,000 credit, sold $28,200,000 worth of goods, importing $29,900,000 worth.

The remainder of the countries imported from Russia far more than they exported. Great Britain purchasing $21,200,000 and exporting only $7,150,000 worth of goods.

Aside from the fact that American machines are of higher quality than European machines, the soviet government must continue to depend on American cotton for many years to come, because it will take another decade before cotton cultivation can be restored in Turkestan. Even then Russia will be able to supply only a small percentage of its actual needs.

Russia also will continue to purchase huge quantities of American and Canadian grain for seed purposes, since, despite the large imports following the crop failures of 1921 and 1922, the quality of Russian grain continues to decline because of the primitive farming methods of the peasantry.

Careless Washing

Careless washing of children's hair is a luxury. It is simply a waste of time and money. It is simply a waste of time and money. It is simply a waste of time and money.

the locker room awaiting returns brought in by sunburned couriers, every stroke was a blow at Bobby's bank book. This is an extremely sensitive spot, and Bobby winced himself inside out as the ominous numberals were recited to him.

Farrell's mother was waiting for him in the midst of a crowd of 3,000 on the home green. Johnny won only 15 feet from the cup with three puts to the Crickshank. He was interrupted at his work to wind an arm around his mother's neck in a pose for the movies, then rolled up his first putt and sank the second, amid much commotion and noise.

This is the way the leaders finished, and these are the prizes they won:

Farrell.....70 71 63-274 $3,000
Joe Kirkwood.....69 70 68-267 2,000
Harry Hampton.....74 69 73 66-282 750
Johnnie Walker.....70 72 68-280 600
Tommy Armour.....78 70 87 78-285 600
Harry Cooper.....73 70 73 68-288 650

Al Espinoza, Lloyd Gullickson, Al Watrous, and George Voltz, the Washington amateur, were tied at 288, and next came Massie Miller, 289; Willie Klein, 290; Frank Walsh, 290, and Henry Child and MacDonald Smith, 291.

274 RECORD SCORE

Record scores in national open golf championships do not come closer than four strokes of the remarkable total made by Johnny Farrell in winning the Miami Beach open with 274 for 72 holes. His final round of 40-35-43 on a par 71 course probably has never been duplicated. The records of the major open meets are:

United States open—Chick Evans at Minkahda in 1916-296.
British open—Bobby Jones at St. Andrews in 1927-285.
Western open—Walter Hagen at Indianapolis in 1926-279.
Canadian open—Douglas Edgar at Hamilton in 1919-278.

Boston Braves Whip Yanks 3 Times in Row

Braves Buy Bell

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20.—(U. P.)—The Boston Braves engineered their second spectacular trade of the year tonight when they gave Third Baseman Andy High and $20,000 to the St. Louis Cardinals for Lester Bell, star third baseman.

Rogers Hornsby, captain of the Braves, was largely instrumental in bringing Bell to the team. Bell was one of the star players of the National league under Hornsby in 1926.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 20.—(U. P.)—The Cardinals of the baseball world but the Boston Braves can lay claim to the title so far as it concerns St. Petersburg. For the third time in as many games, the Yankees succumbed to their National rivals today, 4 to 2.

Babe Ruth showed a further return to form, getting two singles and walk in his four appearances at the plate. Gehrig went hitless.

New York (A.).....000 000 200-2 7 3

Senators Whip Robins.

Tampa, Fla., March 20.—(U. P.)—"Bucky" Harris led his Washington Senators to a 6 to 2 victory over Brooklyn in an exhibition game here today. ## Cubs' Regulars Play Goofs for Camp Title Today

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

VALON, Catalina Island, Cal., March 20.—So far as the routine two-day stuff on the training field is concerned, the Cubs are about at the end of the rope, and there are no regrets. Tomorrow the fifth and determining game of the camp series between the regulars and goofs will be staged. Thursday will be devoted to packing and final good-byes for the year; after that the interest will be stimulated by daily exhibition games that start at Los Angeles next Friday and wind up at Terre Haute, Ind., April 9.

The two drills today were on the same old basis. In the morning Root, Blake, and Maughan pitched and everybody hit. In the afternoon Jones, Bush, Weimer, and Carlson pitched and everybody hit. In between was some fielding practice, in which McCarthy walked in behind the different candidates and instructed them on certain little tricks of fielding.

In the intracamp final tomorrow the pitching will be handled by Welch, Gramp, Hansen, and Fowler, the latter being the southpaw who reported late. It will be his first appearance and it may be his last. Just which team these fellows will work for will not be determined until McCarthy has used an opportunity to confer with himself. There may be additional difficulties in locating two complete lineups, because Butler and Heathcote still are slightly out of whack as the result of their mishaps in the Sunday exhibition.

A reward for his work, Capt. Griss was excused this morning, and he decided he'd make a trip into the south into the middle of the island, of which he had heard much from the goat hunters. As noon he came back, giving indications of having made the return trip of ten miles in record time. He explained that he had been attacked by either a ground squirrel or a cow, he didn't know. After he had taken a shot at the animal, he missed, the animal pounced him almost to the hotel door. Grimm said later he would have told a better story had he been able to think of one.

So far none of the Cub hurlers has been permitted or asked to stick on the knob for nine innings, but it won't be long now. Before the end of the week some of them will get a seven inning dose if they can last that long.

Leggett, the young catcher who reported late because he didn't want to give up his dental practice at New Orleans, is well put up youngster, with the marks of a fair prospect. He has a good throwing arm, is fast on his feet, and hits a ball hard. He slugged out a large number of home runs for the Greenville, S. C., team last season. Leggett has an excellent chance of sticking at least until Jack Churry, the bull pen catcher, recovers his health.

Although McCarthy started spring training with pretty definite ideas about how his infield would be made up, he is not at all certain that it will work out as he thought. Any one of three men—Maguire, McMillan and Beck—is possible for second base, and enabled them to whip the Baltimore club of the interlop league, 7 to 4, here today.

Pass Christian Handicap Won by Beggar Boy

New Orleans, La., March 20.—Mrs. R. M. Hoots' 3 year old Beggar Boy defeated the odds on favorite, Color Sergeant, and won the Pass Christian handicap, the feature at Jefferson Park this afternoon. Patsy Jane was third, victory, but despite his consistent running the players overlooked him and he paid the good odds of $22.40 in the $2 mutuels.

Patsy Jane was away flying when the barrier lifted, but Beggar Boy was not far behind, and he had passed her before they had gone half a mile. In the stretch Color Sergeant, taken to the outside, closed with a rush, but was a length behind as they passed the finish line. The five and one-half furlongs were run in 1:05.3, just a fifth of a second slower than the track record.

Two of the longest shots of the season marched home in the last two races. The 3 year old maiden Intense won the mile sixth race from a fair hand of 3 year olds and paid $92.40 in the mutuels. In the last event the veteran Grand King came to life and when he got the decision over Miss Chiquiquy paid $18.40 for each $2 ticket invested.

New York Admits Chicago Lads Look Like 'Tough Guys'

New York, N. Y., March 20. Sports Editor, Tribune.

WELL, I am glad you sent us letters of your guys because they are so many of us here on them tabloids what can't read. Well, Don, they are a fine looking set of boys, and I would not go around telling anybody that we are going to clean you up, because I do not feel so confident now that I have seen how tough your guys is.

Our guys are good boys, and they will do their best, but I do not think they are as tough as your guys is. Any guy is a sucker what goes around saying how he is a sure thing to win, because a punch on the chin has busted up more brains than you have ever seen, Don.

What I was writing you about, Don, is how now we are bringing the best team that a guy could put together from our Golden gloves winners, and if you lick us, nobody ain't gonna say it was mugs you licked.

I seen you got a lot of excitement about "beat New York" in your paper, and I guess that is a good thing to make your guys excited so they will fight when it is time to fight. I guess it would be a fine thing for Chicago to beat New York, because then maybe somebody will hear about the place.

That is our team, Don, and I hope you will treat them all well when they get to your place, because they are nothing mean about their boys. All they want is a fair break and a square deal, and they know they will win it on account I told them how you was noted for that kind of stuff, and that you were very sportsman-like as was prove by that fine article.

Roberti Real Prospect, Says Backer Bagley

Roberto Roberti, the Italian, has as bright a future as any heavyweight developed since Gene Tunney.

Well, so long, Don; I will write again tomorrow and tell you more about our boys.

As soon as he gets a few more fights, he will be ready for any of the heavyweights, including the champion.

Roberti yesterday attracted a capacity crowd to the gymnasium where he is training.

Peterson, who has been training for at least two weeks for pending contests, is in excellent condition. His workout yesterday convinced the spectators he is ready for the rugged Italian. Peterson has been substituted for Otto von Perat, the Norwegian, who has been taken down with an attack of pneumonia.

CORN ADVANCES TO NEW PEAK; WHEAT ALSO UP

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain markets showed a strong upturn with corn in the lead. Near-by deliveries of the latter sold at a new high on the present upturn with the deferred futures at the new high on the crop, as did all deliveries of wheat, and while there was heavy profit taking the finish was about the top. Wheat finished 1/2¢ higher; corn up 1/2¢; oats, 1/4¢ higher to 1/2¢ lower, and rye, 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher.

Corn was a big, broad affair, with local professional free sellers early, but the undertone was strong, and toward the last there was heavy buying on the development that 424,000 bu in public elevators had been ordered shipped out, the bulk of the grain going to the seaboard, and local handlers sold 65,000 bu to exporters during the day. The greater part of the grain was taken in on March contracts. Reports from the seaboard indicated that there has been some export business put through, and sentiment there was decidedly favorable to the buying side of futures.

Profit Taking on Bulge.

There was some selling on the advance by commission houses, and some of the local operators were inclined to the bear side, but the offerings were readily absorbed, with shorts covering freely. Country offerings were small, and receipts at shipping markets have fallen off sharply. Buenos Aires closed unchanged to 1/2¢ lower and Rosario 1/2¢ lower, as compared with Saturday. Local spot basis was unchanged to 2¢ higher.

Trade in wheat was not large, but the undertone was firm and the finish was about the top, with the late upturn in corn having some effect. There was a much more active export demand at the seaboard, with sales in all positions estimated as high as 1,800,000 bu, with the United Kingdom and the continent buying freely, and the latter also bought Argentine grain for deferred shipment on a liberal scale. Liverpool surprised the trade by closing unchanged to 1/2¢ higher in the face of the decline in American markets on Monday. There was around 50,000 bu cash wheat bought to come here from outside markets.

Crop Reports Mixed.

Plowing up of winter wheat in the central west is reported from a rather large area, but in the south the outlook shows improvement, due to recent rains. World's available supplies decreased 4,176,000 bu for the week and is 30,346,000 bu, against 30,790,000 last year. Buenos Aires closed 1/2¢ higher and Rosario 1/2¢ higher, as compared with Saturday.

Oat market was unsettled, with cash

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address: Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Parental Authority.

I had just moved in a new neighborhood and had only made the acquaintance of a few small girls who played with my little girl.

One day I was going to the grocery store when I passed several little girls, including my own, playing near some workmen who were fixing a sewer. A workman called sharply to one of the little girls telling her to keep away from there or he would give her a good slap. I objected and told him he should be ashamed of himself to threaten to strike a small child and that I would protect the little girl. Can you imagine my embarrassment when the little girl said quickly, "O that's all right, lady, he's my daddy?"
